

League of Nations Defeats American Disarmament Plan

Subcommissions Seeking To Reduce Chances Of Hostilities Veto Latest Proposal.

BRITAIN AND JAPS WITH UNCLE SAM

Four Important Suggestions From American Delegations So Far Have Been Turned Down.

Geneva, June 29.—The American delegations on the League of Nations subcommissions considering various phases of disarmament stand were defeated at every turn on their proposals looking to reduction of the chances of war.

The military subcommission, following the lead of the naval subcom-mission in its opposition to American proposals, has vetoed the motion made by the Americans Tuesday and calling for inclusion of trained reserves in the basis of comparison of military armaments.

Upon the failure of the latest American suggestion General Nolan, of the American group, gave a lengthy statement to the commission, in which he pointed out reasons for the American proposal as to trained reserves.

To date four important American suggestions have been rejected by the league's subcommissions, the lineup of nations usually showing Great Britain and Japan with the Americans, and France and Italy heading the list of opponents.

The first two defeats for the American delegations came in the naval sub-commission. First the commission refused to consider naval disarmament apart from other forms of disarmament and later they rejected an American motion to base all future reductions on classes of naval craft. The military subcommission not only refused the American delegation's move to include reserves in training in peace time in the list of effective items of war strength, but followed this action by refusing to classify stocks of war materials in the list of items making up potential war power of a country.

General Nolan, of the American commission made the following statement to the military subcommission after the proposal regarding trained reserves was defeated:

"In a country like the United States, where trained reserves do not exist and where the regular army of 118,000 men is quickly reabsorbed into civilian life once its members return to their homes, our nation is at a great disadvantage against nations where a system of trained reserves permits the placing of a trained army of 4,000,000 men into the field on short notice.

"The United States insists that peace-time armaments shall include not only trained reserves, but also stocks of war material which may be accumulated in peace time. Any decision of this body against such a stand will be unacceptable to the United States."

Walker Weary of Visitors
Besmirching Gotham's Reputation.

New York, June 29.—(AP)—Mayor
Walker is weary of out-of-town visitors besmirching the big city's reputation.
He gave this today as his reason for insisting upon a 3 a. m. curfew ordinance for night clubs. People from all over the world patronize the places affected by the order, he said, and then go away to criticize the conditions they enjoyed.

"There's no other city in the United States where citizens stay in night clubs until 3 o'clock in the morning," the mayor told the "dusk-to-dawn club" representatives. "They come to New York to do that sort of thing. And they go home and tell everyone they meet what a wicked place New York is."

The next move will come when the board of estimate considers the matter in executive session.

W. C. T. U. FUND USE JUSTIFIED, SAYS WOODRUFF

Attorney General Dares Critics To Make Test Of His Action in Courts of Pennsylvania.

REED AND WRIGHT
CLASH OVER BAIRD

Chairman of Slush Fund Probe Attacks Use of U. S. Steel Employee To Enforce Prohibition.

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—Appearing at a night session of the senate committee investigating the Pennsylvania primary, Attorney General George W. Woodruff defended his action in using W. C. T. U. contributions for prohibition enforcement.

"If anybody wants to test it out,"
he said, "the courts of Pennsylvania are open." Woodruff said the constitution required the executive to enforce the law and that he was free to do this in any way not expressly forbidden.

He admitted a contribution of $17, 000 to Pinchot's senatorial campaign.

"Pilloried," Claims Woodruff.
When Reed attempted to question Woodruff about his financial standing, the witness protested that he was being "pilloried before the newspaper world." Finally he admitted that he was worth $250,000.

"How did you get it?" Senator Reed, of Missouri, asked.

"That isn't anything you have a right to ask me," Woodruff replied.
"I don't want to compel you to do anything," Reed explained. "But we have a right to ask the question and if you decline to answer it the responsibility is yours."

Woodruff then explained that it would take him too long to recite the financial story of his life. He had always saved from his salary and had bought stocks and bonds and reinvested his earnings, but that he had not engaged in any financial activities since becoming attorney general of Pennsylvania, he said.

Wright was recalled to the stand to be asked about a $20 tip paid to a railroad employee from the W. C. T.
U. enforcement fund. Wright explained this money was spent in arranging a set-up for a liquor contract involving a shipment of alcohol in which his undercover men were attempting to catch a bootlegger.
Before the deal was finally closed however, it was abandoned for lack of funds and a fear that a conviction could not be obtained in federal court.

Prosecutions Useless.
"Our experience has shown us that it is futile to expect results in a federal court in Philadelphia," Wright said. "When no big bootlegger in Philadelphia has been caught in four years."

"Do you think it's remarkable that the district attorney would refuse to prosecute for a crime that had been caused by a fall from the rear steps of the Elliott home?"

"You were a successful prosecutor and you know that it is necessary to have certain things to make your case," Wright told Reed.

FAIN EXONERATED IN POLICE COURT

Acting Assistant Chief Freed of Disorderly Conduct Charge Growing Out of Fight.

Charges of disorderly conduct lodged against Police Captain Grover C. Fain, acting assistant chief of police, were dismissed before Recorder A. W. Calloway Tuesday afternoon for lack of prosecution, on motion of his attorney, Audrey M. Lane.

The charges were preferred three weeks ago by Police Chief James L.
Beavers and Captain G. T. Butler, following an altercation in his home when Captain Fain is alleged to have struck his father-in-law, William Gann. According to Captain Fain, his father-in-law approached him with a knife.

Only Captain Butler appeared at the trial for the prosecution. Captain Butler stated to the court that he did not see the affair and that it was reported to him. Chief Beavers now is out of the city on his vacation.

No statement was made by Captain Fain. After the statement by Captain Butler, Attorney Lane made a motion that Captain Fain be absolved of the charges since no witnesses to the affair were furnished by the prosecution. The motion was granted by Recorder Calloway without further hearing.

ELLIOTT WINS IN FIRST ROUND BEFORE COURT

Prosecuting Attorney Admits Inability To Prove Florida Millionaire Murdered His Wife.

ELLIOTT IS FREED
IN $25,000 BOND

State Indicates That It Will Attempt To Obtain Conviction On Manslaughter Charge.

St. Petersburg, Fla., June 29.—(AP)
R. M. Elliott, charged with the murder of his wife, today was bound over to the grand jury under $25,000 bond after the district attorney had admitted to the court there was no possibility of obtaining a conviction of murder in the first degree.

The district attorney indicated he would seek a conviction for manslaughter.

The preliminary hearing today followed the verdict of a coroner's jury yesterday which found that Mrs. Elliott came to her death at the hands of her husband. Mrs. Elliott died on Saturday as a result of a fractured skull which was said to have received when she fell from the rear doorway of the home onto a concrete pavement. Police charged that Elliott either pushed or caused his wife to fall.

Elliott tonight was back at home after furnishing bond.

Dramatic Scene.
Today's hearing came to a dramatic conclusion when the millionaire developer took the stand and related a dramatic story of the tragedy. When he had finished his eyes filled with tears and he dropped back into his chair, his face buried in his hands.

"Is it a fact, Mr. Elliott, that you loved your wife very much?" his attorney asked.

"My God, what a question," he sobbed. "Of course I loved her, more than words can tell. I have given her diamonds, automobiles, fine homes, everything that her heart could desire."

"But," he added, his voice dyed down almost to a whisper, "Mrs. Elliott has been a sick woman for many years. She has had a number of serious operations. She was highly nervous, and at times would do things for which she was not responsible.
She would drive the car through the garage, strike at me with a golf club, and do many other things. This discord question had become an obsession with her. I had tried to get her not to file the bill, and we had agreed to leave at once for our lodge in the northern woods, but now, it is all over."

Attends Wife's Funeral.
Earlier in the afternoon Elliott had attended the funeral of his wife at a local undertaking parlor, and had broken down there when he viewed the body for the last time.

The preliminary hearing, which had been set for 2 o'clock, was postponed until 4 o'clock on account of the funeral. Elliott spent the night in the county jail in the custody of St. Petersburg police, and was accompanied by two officers who remained with him during the funeral.

During the examination, Elliott, who sat between his attorneys, was engaged in making notes of the testimony, and when the cross-examination started, he prompted the attorneys.
The doctor said it was possible that the injury to Mrs. Elliott could have been caused by a fall from the rear steps of the Elliott home.

This was corroborated by Dr. John
A. Herring, who made the x-ray picture which he exhibited to the court.
The case will go to the grand jury in the event Elliott is indicted under the indictment returned by the grand jury.

World in Pretty Bad Way, Declare M. E. Bishops

BY EARL J. JOHNSON.
Chicago, June 29.—The world is in a pretty bad way, according to 28 bishops of the Methodist church meeting here.

In America we have an epidemic of immorality and the rest of the world suffers because we don't set them a better Christian example.

This is a composite of the opinions expressed by the leaders of the Methodist group who have come from the ends of the earth to attend a meeting of the denomination's world service commission.

The principal trouble in this country is that the prohibition laws are not strict enough and are not rigidly enforced, said Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the church's board of temperance, prohibition and public morals.

Bishops from India, China and Africa said that America must become more thoroughly Christian first, as the other countries were looking this way for guidance.

Dr. Wilson, of the temperance board, Bishop Thomas Nicholson, head of the American Anti-Saloon league, and Bishop William Fraser McDowell, of Washington, discussed the liquor evil, blaming it for an "epidemic of immorality."

Dr. Wilson announced a seven-point platform to put more teeth in prohibition. He said he based the program on the opinions of Methodist leaders and that he had met at various church and prohibition conferences. His proposals are as follows:

1. Punish the buyers of liquor as well as the sellers.
2. Prison sentences for first offenders.
3. Stricter enforcement of the padlock portion of the Volstead law.
4. Deportation of all aliens convicted of liquor law violations.
5. Civil service appointment of federal dry agents.
6. Make the states run down bootleggers instead of depending on Uncle Sam for enforcement.
7. Defeat all wet candidates.

Wednesday's program of the service commission's meeting will be devoted to planning more extensive missionary work in the foreign field.

FARM RELIEF LEGISLATION, SPONSORED BY PRESIDENT, MEETS DEFEAT IN SENATE

VIADUCTS' WORK

Expenditure of $1,000,000
For Schools Also To Be gin as Soon as Plans Are Decided.

Twin Span Over N. C.
& St. L. Tracks Will Be

thorized by Bonds.

ARCHITECT PLANS
NEAR COMPLETION

Actual construction on the twin viaducts which will span Pryor street and Central avenue crossings of the N. C. & St. L. railway likely will begin by July 15, according to plans made public Tuesday by Claude E.
Buchanan, mayor pro tem and chairman of the councilmanic viaducts commission.

Mr. Buchanan received telegraphic advices Tuesday from Walter F.
Shulz, of Memphis, architect, stating that perfected drawings will be in the hands of city officials by July 6, and Mr. Buchanan announced that he will call a joint meeting of the viaducts committee and the bond commission as soon as plans arrive.

This is the first definite announcement concerning work on the $8,000,000 in civic improvements voted in a bond issue by citizens of Atlanta, will begin, and was taken as the signal for renewed activity among the committees. Meetings of committees will be held shortly and definite steps to assure rapid and judicious administration of the bonds funds will be laid.

Only $2,000,000 of the $8,000,000 fund will be available this year, according to the West plan, which was presented by R. Graham West, city controller, and which was passed by a ten to one vote in a city-wide referendum. Schools will get $1,000,000; viaducts $500,000, and sewers $500,000
in accordance with the plan.

The school committee has held several meetings already and tentative plans have been submitted by Willis
A. Sutton, superintendent, and R. R.
Ritchie, assistant superintendent.

These will be perfected in a few days heads of the school system announce, and arrangements are being made to push expenditure of funds in order that additional school facilities may be available at the opening in the fall.

The spirit of optimism with which the announcement of completion of the drawings of the viaducts was received in city hall circles was augmented by announcement of Mr. West to the effect that council could anticipate funds from the sale of the bonds and begin at an early date work on the several projects for which money will be available shortly.

Mr. Buchanan's committee is composed of Aldermen William B. Hartsfield and Councilman O. D. Knight, while the viaducts committee of the bond commission is composed of Abe Greenfield, chairman; J. Lawrence McCard and Nelson Spratt. Any action taken by this joint commission would have to be approved by the bond commission as a whole and the mayor and general council.

A new hotel construction program involving expenditure estimated at $150,000 and erection of two additional units to the Hampton hotel on Houston street between South Pryor and Ivy streets came to light Tuesday.

It was learned that plans for a three-story, 50-room addition to the Hampton are being prepared by G.
Lloyd Preacher and company, local architects, and that construction will begin as soon as blue prints are completed on the site of the old "Candler hotel on Ivy street, just around the corner from the present hotel. The new unit will be in the form of an L, to the present hotel and will be connected with it by a passageway.

The Wade H. Davis company, owner of the hotel, also has title to a lot adjacent to the structure and within 12 months a second addition of 40 rooms will be erected on this location. The hotel now has 60 rooms and bath; the first new unit will have 50 and the second 40, bringing the entire hotel under the contemplated plans to 150 rooms and baths.

Plans Being Drawn.
Work on plans for the new addition are yet in preliminary stages, according to Wade H. Davis, president of the Wade H. Davis company, owners of the hotel, who stated Tuesday that the G. Lloyd Preacher company would submit first sketches and designs in the near future, after which full specifications would be announced.

Coolidge Plans To Fish At Summer Vacation Camp

WASHINGTON, June 29.—President Coolidge intends to turn fisherman this summer during his vacation in the Adirondacks. Not since he was a boy in Vermont has he indulged in the sport but he plans to try his luck with rod and line, relying on secret service men, newspaper correspondents who accompany him for pointers.

The president's fishing plans were disclosed today at the White House, and at the same time it was said that he felt his views on the sport had been misinterpreted about a year ago to make it appear that he considered fishing a sport for boys and unworthy of grown men.

It was recalled that at that time his opinion was sought as to the wisdom of stocking the tidal basin, near the White House, with fish. He said he could see no advantage to it except to the boys of Washington, as he assumed grownups preferred to go farther from home for their fishing.

A number of the president's cabinet are fishermen, some having tried their luck in Florida waters, while others, like Attorney General Sargent, who is particularly fond of trout fishing, have whipped the streams of New England, where the president himself as a boy cast a line.

DE MOLAYS INSTALL NEW OFFICER LIST

With an impressive ritualistic service coupled with a musical program, magic stunts, and refreshments, the annual summer public installation of DeMolay officers was held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Masonic Temple with the largest audience that has witnessed an installation ceremony.

Julian Boehm, well known civic leader, was master of the ceremonies and entertained the audience with his sleight-of-hand tricks, while members of the mothers' auxiliary provided and served refreshments for the service.

Gordon Keith was installed as master councillor; Sanders Roland, as senior councillor and Rupert Irwin, term.

Sponsors of the DeMolay, recently elected, were introduced to the chapter and the public at the exercises Tuesday night. Miss Catherine Canty and Miss Catherine Lott are sponsors for the ensuing term.

Clem Ford, past master councillor presented Len Scheff, retiring master councillor with a past councillor's pin and gave a short presentation talk.

The officers installed Tuesday night are: Louis Rauschenberg, senior deacon; Billy Mizell, junior deacon; Steve Hughes, senior steward; Robert Looney, junior steward; Walter Crowe, chaplain; Jimmy Carlton, marshal; Lester Brown, sentinel; Carlos Wilson, standard bearer; Aubrey Whitte, almoner; Ernest Pritchett, orator, and Joe Johnson, Ronald Reed, Lee Mann, George O'Beir, Mac Jackson, Perry Huff and Frank McDonald, preceptors.

WOOD CHALLENGES HOLDER TO DEBATE GOVERNOR'S RACE

Union Point, Ga., June 29.—(Special.)—Persistent demand that John Holder, chairman of the highway commission and candidate for governor, made public the counties in which he proposes to lay 2,000 miles of paved road in the next 10 years was made here tonight by J. O. Wood, member of the legislature from Fulton and also gubernatorial candidate.

Mr. Wood spoke to a large audience at the auditorium and declared he would meet any candidate in the race in joint public debate.

The speaker quoted excerpts of an address made recently by Mr. Holder at the state meeting of county officials, and stated that his opponent said he would pave 2,000 miles of Georgia roads within the next 10 years without a state road bond issue.

"The people of the state are entitled to know in which counties the paving is contemplated, and it is fair that they be given this information at once," Mr. Wood said. "Mr. Holder also should make known his decision regarding the state taking over several stretches of highway requested at a recent hearing at East Point."

Mr. Wood made it clear he was not a candidate on a bond platform.

Three Atlantans Held in Fatal Motor Accident

Carterville, Ga., June 29.—(Special.)—Harvey Manor, John L. Hinton and Mrs. Mary Galloway, all of Atlanta, are being held in jail here following the death of Lloyd Stewart, age 8, who succumbed today from motor injuries sustained Sunday.

The boy, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stewart, of Kingston, died in a Rome hospital of a fractured skull and other injuries.

The accident is said to have happened near his home and reports are that after striking the child, the driver increased his speed.

A witness furnished an automobile number to local officers, resulting in the arrest of the Atlanta trio.

The boy is survived by his parents and five others. Cecil Ralph, Horace W. L. and Eugene Stewart, Funeral services probably will be held today.

LITERARY SOCIETY FORMED AT EMORY FOR SUMMER TERM

Following a plan outlined by Few Literary society at a regular meeting last spring, a literary society was organized for the Emory summer session last Monday morning to fill the need for forensic training during the summer months.

A committee of Few men, who were interested in the plan, was put in charge of the project under the leadership of Glenn Elliott, one of the debaters on the varsity squad of Emory.

Many of the young women, who are taking summer work at Emory were present. The roll of charter members of the group includes Misses Mary Eunice Sapp, Mary Alice Smith, Mary Stuart Rice, Peggie Brown, Grace New, Sara Thompson, Marie Goodyear and Messrs. N. G. Reeves, Raymond Eugene Musset, Cecil B. Burroughs, S. L. Carter, J. G. Stowe, W. H. Jones, Otis Kirby, David A. Lockmiller and G. M. Elliott.

EVANGELIST DENNIS HITS CHURCH POLITICS

In a stirring sermon Tuesday night at Simsboro, on River cane line, Evangelist J. A. Dennis appealed for elimination of politics in the church, emphasizing and demand for "pure and unadulterated word of God which is able to build you up and give you an inheritance among them that are sanctified," he said.

Evangelist Dennis will hold his last meeting tonight, when he will talk on "Christian Unity."

"Come back tomorrow," he said, "and I think I will be able to show you a Scriptural way in which we all can speak the same thing and not have any divisions among us—we can all speak the same thing when we speak the words of the living God, and all Christians then will be one as God and Christ are one, that the world may believe that God sent Jesus into the world and that Jesus is God's son," the minister said, as he read from the Book of John.

Evangelist Dennis goes this week to the northern part of Alabama where he will be engaged for a period of about six weeks in a debate on the proposition of "It Is a Sin to Keep the Sabbath."

NOMINATIONS MADE AT N. E. A. MEETING

Philadelphia, June 29.—(AP)—Nomination of officers and suggestions for the adjustment of school courses to meet individual differences, commensurate with individual ability, and new courses to teach the "proper use of leisure and money" marked today's sessions of the National Education association.

Dr. Francis C. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, Springfield, Ill., and Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, president of the Northwest Missouri Teachers college, Maryville, Mo., were nominated for the presidency to succeed Miss Mary McKimmon. The election will be held Thursday. Having no opposition, Henry Lester Smith, Bloomington, Ind., was re-elected treasurer.

Vice presidents nominated were Ira T. Chapman, New Jersey; P. C. Claxton, Oklahoma; Selden M. Ely, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Jessie M. Fink, Michigan; Harold W. Fought, South Dakota; Florence M. Hale, Maine; J. W. Matthews, Arizona; Sue Powers, Tennessee; Claude W. Sandifur, California; Joseph H. Amundson, Virginia; Helen B. Shove, Minnesota; Max Trumper, Montana, and Mary Ulen, Oregon.

Dr. Blair, in addressing the general session, declared that it was the business of education to create within the individual the power and the means of seeing the cosmic, biologic and the social ethical worlds in their relationships one to the other.

Congressman William D. Upshaw, of Georgia, appealed to the delegates to "marshal the forces for education" and help drive away objectionable pictures from the American screen.

"I stand amazed and delighted," he said, "at the mastery and wizardry of creative genius as portrayed in the motion picture of today. But I believe in capturing the motion picture influence for the cause of education, education without ideals is like a flower without fragrance or a statue without a soul."

Ernest L. Crandall, director of visual instruction in the schools of New York city, asserted that motion pictures constituted one of the greatest constructive forces in modern life.

CARL LAEMMLE, MOVIE MAGNATE, ILL IN LONDON

Southampton, Eng., June 29.—Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Pictures corporation, is ill with appendicitis and has been rushed to London for an operation.

Tuesday on the Cunard liner Berengaria. His illness developed while he was aboardship and wireless messages were sent to London requesting specialists to meet the film man when the Berengaria docked. Laemmle also directed that a message be wireless to his own surgeon in the United States asking him to board the first boat for Europe. The surgeon is expected to arrive on the White Star liner Majestic Friday. Laemmle hopes that he can defer the operation until then.

ATHENS BOY EDITS ARMY CAMP PAPER

Anniston, Ala., June 29.—(AP)—Marcus Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bryant, of Athens, Ga., has been made editor in chief of The Camp McClellan Messenger, official publication of the army camp near here.

Mr. Bryant is a senior in the school of journalism, University of Georgia, and a former reporter on The Athens Banner-Herald.

McFadden Urges More Walking And Less Eating

New York, June 27.—(Special.)—Bernarr McFadden, the "father of physical culture," who several days ago gave George Hasler Johnston a thousand dollars in cash for breaking the world's endurance record by walking while fasting, has published a signed editorial in the New York Evening Graphic.

"If the people of this country understood the stupendous importance of his feat it would have been emblazoned on the front page of every newspaper."

There has been considerable newspaper speculation as to the object of the walk and no clear explanation has heretofore appeared in print. The walk was instigated by Bernarr McFadden as publisher of Physical Culture magazine to focus national attention to the fact that as a people we should walk more and eat less. The knowledge secured is of world-wide importance, says Mr. McFadden.

"What would it be worth to an army in time of war if it were known that in case of extreme necessity soldiers could march for hundreds of miles without eating? What would it be worth to a person stranded in a country where food is not obtainable to know he can travel great distances and still retain the strength essential to go on his way without actually eating himself to death?"

The editorial has attracted great attention as it is the first clear statement of the object of the foodless hike.

WISCONSIN MAY BAR SPEECH BY ROOSEVELT

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Milwaukee, Wis., June 29.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will be barred from speaking at the opening day of the Wisconsin state fair on August 28 unless he gives assurance that no politics will be injected into his address, it was intimated here today by officials of the fair organization.

Official notice to the effect that Colonel Roosevelt's address might have a political tinge was attracted by a published interview given by the Colonel in Chicago, in which he announced that he would attack the world court when he spoke here.

John J. Jones, Jr., commissioner of agriculture, stated that he believed a world court talk would be a political address "at this particular time" and that such an address would not be countenanced by fair officials. Added significance was lent to this statement by the fact that Governor John J. Blaine, right-hand man of Senator Robert M. La Follette, is seeking the toga of Senator Irvine L. Lenroot by attacks on the latter's championship of the world court.

Colonel Roosevelt was invited to make the address by the American Legion, Austin A. Petersen, adjutant of the state department of the legion, explained that the colonel had been asked to talk purely on Americanization features and must have misunderstood the invitation.

Hotel Is Completed.

Blairsville, Ga., June 29.—(Special.)—Construction work has been completed on the new Christopher hotel and hundreds of persons are expected to take part in the formal opening Thursday. The hotel is 100 feet above sea level, and as roads to Blairsville have been improved in the last several years, many visitors are expected.

Prove to yourself the greater Safety and Profit!

... of these 6½% Guaranteed-Insurable Bonds

ONLY BY INVESTING IN ADAIR GUARANTEED-INSURABLE 6½% BONDS

can you Combine—

- the fundamental soundness of the old-fashioned real estate mortgage;
- plus — the convenience and simplicity of the modern first mortgage coupon bond, in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100;
- plus — the written and unconditional guarantee of the house of issue, with capital, surplus and profits of $2,500,000 and resources over $10,000,000;
- plus — the right to insure your holdings against loss at any time upon application to an independent surety company, with resources over $27,000,000;
- plus — an uninterrupted net income of $65 a year from every $1000 invested.

The safety and soundness of Adair Guaranteed-Insurable 6½% Bonds is further attested by the Adair record of over 61 years of continuous service to mortgage investors without loss of a dollar of interest or principal.

~To thousands of Investors the July Re-investment period brings no problems—yet they enjoy a 15% to 40% greater return~

THE first mortgage on real estate has been in use, undergoing a process of improvement, for over four thousand years.

Today, backed by the guarantee of the house of issue, fortified by insurance against loss, the first mortgage coupon bond is universally recognized as one of the soundest and most desirable investments for those who require absolute safety of principal and uninterrupted payment of interest.

A Billion a Year

During 1925, in the United States alone, approximately one billion dollars was invested in urban real estate first mortgage bonds.

This is twice the total invested in such securities during 1923—and twenty times the total for 1919.

Most Stable, Conservative and Profitable

The oldest and largest investors in the United States are the great life insurance companies; and according to the report of the Lockwood Committee, they "have overwhelmingly established that mortgage loans on real estate proved the most stable, conservative and best income paying investments, yielding year in and year out about 20% higher income returns than other securities."

40% Higher Income

A comparison recently made between the yield of 60 high-grade bonds and the yield of Adair Guaranteed-Insurable 6½% Bonds shows that Adair Bonds have an income advantage of 40% over the desirable railroad and industrial bonds.

Moreover, Adair Bonds do not fluctuate, whereas the yield of high grade railroad and industrial bonds has been steadily declining since 1921 and recently reached the lowest point in years.

Unusual Protection

Successful investors in first mortgage bonds have learned to depend upon 3 things for unqualified safety:

- 1 They demand an unconditional guarantee of principal and interest, backed by the capital, surplus and profits of the house of issue. No charge should be made for this guarantee.
- 2 They ask for and carefully study the current financial statement of the underwriting mortgage investment house.
- 3 They insist upon the right to insure their holdings against loss at any time in an independent surety company. This privilege shall be optional with them, but non-cancellable by the surety company.

Sponsors of the proposal, introduced several weeks ago in council, argued many advantages will accrue to the city from the change. Those opposing the measure contend that no considerable advantage would come to the city and the change would disrupt business and throw affairs into a state of chaos.

ed to take some definite step to secure a zoning law code for the city which can be enforced. Mr. Russell and other members of the committee have been working to perfect a provision whereby the city can enforce a zoning ordinance under the present state law, without asking a change in the Georgia constitution. The Georgia supreme court several months ago ruled the city zoning laws are unconstitutional, that the city must

KIWANIANS WANT EASTERN TIME FOR ATLANTA.
Unanimous indorsement of a movement to change the city's time to eastern time and passage of resolutions urging that all new street signs be installed at the earliest possible date featured the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Ansley hotel Tuesday.

It was also decided to send a delegation from the Kiwanis club to meet Bobby Jones, honorary member of the Atlanta club, when he returns to New York. A wireless message was sent to the young champion aboard the Aquitania congratulating him on his victory and advising him that he would be greeted by the Kiwanis delegation in New York, as well as by members from the New York Kiwanis club.

GEORGIA SHIPMENTS OF MELONS BEHIND

One day's passing of 400 cars at Potomac Yards, Virginia, indicates that the watermelon season is well advanced.

The melons are being distributed widely in northern markets. Florida's output has jumped to 2,000 cars, the same as a year ago. North Florida and south Georgia are reported to be getting into full swing, though Georgia is not yet in full production.

Georgia shipments are still lagging behind those of 1925. Last week's shipment for the state was only 800 cars, as against 2,100 for the same period last year.

Alabama has started with a shipment of a dozen cars, and Texas with a total of 570 cars was three or four times ahead of the record for the same period last year, the report stated.

Imperial valley was reported to be forwarding watermelons at the rate

Because of delayed movements in Georgia, the week's combined total of 4,150 cars was about 1,000 cars less than last season. Declines of $100 to $200 per carload were reported in the bulletin to have occurred at central Florida shipping stations, where 24 to 30-pound "Tom Watsons" sold on a cash track basis at $1.50 to $2.50 per 100 pounds. Medium-sized melons could be had at Texas loading stations around 40 to 60 cents per 100 pounds, the bulletin stated. Terminal markets were rather unsettled, but prices tended downward with carloads ranging from about $400 to $700, it was said.

Although his home was badly damaged and the home of his neighbor, Arthur T. Carson, 813 Azalia street, had several windows broken by the bolt, no one was injured.

The fire department answered the call to the Entrican home, but no fire resulted from the bolt. Two of Mr. and Mrs. Entrican's small children were sleeping near a window at the time of the flash, but drawn shades are believed to have saved them from flying glass.

Splendid Growth Is Shown By Atlanta and Southeast In Federal Reserve Report

Annual Report for June Indicates Prosperity Is Sweeping Over South- east Section of U. S.

With department store sales higher than for any previous month since 1920, and both retail and wholesale trade generally registering the best month of the year, business conditions in the territory served by the sixth federal reserve district bank, with headquarters in Atlanta, showed splendid growth during the month of May, 1926.

This condition is shown in the June report of the bank, just made public and, it is added, business statistics show increases all along the line when compared with May, 1925.

Indicative of the general condition of prosperity sweeping over the entire southeast, is the report that savings deposits in 91 reporting banks show amounts 11.3 per cent greater than one year ago. Commercial failures showed a corresponding decrease, being 44.3 less in number, and 0.8 per cent less in liabilities involved over last May.

Weather conditions have been more seasonal during the latter part of May and early June and recent rains have relieved the drought, which with low temperatures earlier in the spring, had caused crops generally to be from two to three weeks late.

Staple crops in Florida are late, due to the dry weather, and the condition of citrus fruits has declined during May because of weather conditions, the report said, but the prospects are still better than at the same time last year.

This also is true, the report said, of wholesale trade in the district. Cotton consumption in the cotton-growing states was slightly greater than in May last year, but production of cloth and yarn by mills reporting to the bank was smaller than at that time.

Savings Are Greater.
Savings deposits in 91 reporting banks at the end of May were 11.3 per cent greater than a year ago, and debts to individual accounts for May were 2.6 per cent greater than in May, 1925. Commercial failures shown in the quality of cotton ginned from last year's crop over 1924.

Weather conditions in the Louisiana cane belt during the latter part of May and the first half of June were shown as favorable for the growing crop and conditions have exhibited improvements. Planters are improving their field work and the stand of cane is reported improving.

Merchandise to the value of $25,309,961 was imported through the port of New Orleans during March, 1926, the latest month for which detailed statistics are available, says the review. This was an increase of 3.3 millions over the value of imports for February, but a decrease of less than three-quarters of a million compared with imports in March of last year.

Increases in volume and value over a year ago were shown in coffee, bananas, newspaper paper and crude petroleum, but decreases were shown in imports of gasoline, sugar and molasses.

Exports through New Orleans for March totaled $34,279,916, approximately 1.2 millions smaller than in February and 0.4 millions smaller than during March, 1925.

Building Larger.
Building permits issued in the district during May showed an increase of 22.2 per cent over May of last year but there was an increase of only 1.6 per cent in point of total value of buildings for which permits were issued.

Lumber production exceeded by 5 per cent the production of usual months.

Statistics compiled and published by the bureau of mines show that the gradual decline in bituminous coal production in the United States which has been continuing since the middle of January was halted in May and the curve of production turned upwards. Production for the week ended June 5 declined, compared with preceding weeks, because of the observance of May 31 as Memorial day in many states in the sixth district.

Production continues greater than in the corresponding period a year ago. Pig iron production throughout the United States amounted to 3,481,428 tons during May, a total of 31,206 tons greater than the April output.

Receipts of both turpentine and resin at the three principal markets of the district showed seasonal increases in May, compared with the preceding month. Receipts of both commodities in May were more than 100 per cent greater than April receipts.

Turpentine receipts were 15.8 per cent smaller than in May last year, and receipts of resin showed a decrease of 19.2 per cent. Stocks of turpentine on hand at the end of May this year were $5.5 per cent greater than the preceding month but slightly smaller than at the same time last year.

OHIO GIRL HELD BELIEVED VICTIM OF MEMORY LAPSE

Miss Virginia Hammond, pretty 20-year-old woman, of Cleveland, Ohio, was held at police station Tuesday night after coming to the station house and asking for help in locating her baggage. She was assisted by Mrs. J. C. Davis and detained at the station while her case was investigated.

According to Mrs. Davis, the young woman came to the station, apparently drugged and her mind practically blank. She was unable to tell her name or where she lived, and it is believed she suffered a short lapse of memory and that with a few hours rest she would be normal.

She was identified by cashier's checks on a Cleveland bank and care in her purse. Mrs. Davis communicated with the girl's mother in Cleveland and the young woman probably will be dismissed this morning. Her baggage was recovered at a downtown hotel late Tuesday.

MATCH-CHEWING PARROT CAUSES ROADHOUSE FIRE

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Chicago, Ill., June 29.—A poll parrot, chewing matches, was responsible for a fire which today destroyed the House of Niles, widely known roadhouse at Niles, Ill. The bird paid for the act with its life, being suffocated by the smoke. A dozen people, sleeping in the place, were overcome and had to be carried out by firemen and early arrivals.

The House of Niles, a two-story frame structure, surrounded by great parking sheds and many small buildings, has been noted for years as the stopping place for funeral parties going to and returning from St. Adalbert's cemetery.

POLICE DOG SLAIN AFTER ATTACKING 6-YEAR-OLD BOY

Fenton Dancy, six-year-old son of Mrs. F. M. Dancy, of 347 Euclid avenue, was treated at Grady hospital and later removed to the Georgia Baptist hospital as a result of numerous lacerations on both arms and about the body, when he was attacked Tuesday morning by a German shepherd dog on the front porch of his home.

William and Alexander Sina, cousins of the bitten child, also were on the porch when the dog attacked young Dancy. The Sina youths screamed and fled from the porch.

The screams of the Sina children attracted the attention of Corrie Wynne, a negro employee of a nearby filling station, who rushed to the scene and found the dog on top of the Dancy child, apparently endeavoring to snap at his throat. Wynne struck the dog on the head with a heavy wrench, and the dog released its hold on the child and ran down Euclid avenue.

Patrolman Tom Langford, who was nearby at the time, gave chase and finally shot and killed the dog on Lake avenue.

Call Officers J. G. Bowman and L. P. Higgins answered the call, investigated the affair and reported to acting Captain Waggoner at police station that the owner of the dog could not be located.

Officers Bowman and Higgins took the dog's head to the laboratory of the state board of health, where it will be examined for rabies.

BOILS FOR YEARS NOW ALL GONE

Alabama Says Dodson's Liver Tonic Gave Him Brand New Liver Worth Fortune.

Experience seems to indicate that people store up in their systems certain poisons that break out all at once in a series of boils. Sometimes they are fatal.

Willie Hapes says: "Ever since I grew up boils broke out on me just when the planting season began, and I had to lay up. Blood remedies were worthless. The only known remedy was calomel, but it seemed to turn my stomach inside out. This spring I got a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic and I feel sure it put a new liver into me worth a fortune, for it cleared out the boils and for the first time in years they didn't come back."

The reason for this is the fact that a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic loosens up the liver, lets go of a gorge of impurities, sour bile, fermented food and gas and breaks up the most obstinate constipation. And yet it never makes you sick—no gripe, no pain—even though it may drive out quarts of sour bile as black as ink. And this result is absolutely guaranteed.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel did in all your life, and without a single unpleasant result, send a card to the nearest store, get your money back.

Al To Run Again For Governorship Say New Yorkers

Utica, N. Y., June 29.—A candidate's speech is the wa county democratic leaders who gathered here from all sections of the state acclaimed today Governor Al Smith's vigorous flailing of the republican party at the testimonial dinner to State Chairman Corning here, last night.

In the emphasis with which the governor told of the issues that will be fought out in the coming state campaign they saw only one thing—Al Smith leading them to another state victory. They left Utica today happy in the belief that the governor not only would run again and be elected, but that he would carry the whole state ticket into office with him.

Before leaving town William H. Kelley, democratic leader of Syracuse, told State Chairman Corning that the governor would have a "fat chance" to escape being a candidate for a fourth term after his speech last night.

"That's a candidate's speech, if I ever heard one," Governor Smith said.

Governor Smith, however, did not commit himself on a fourth term in his talks with any of the leaders here, but they are certain his speech indicates that he is in a fighting mood and ready to take a leading part in the campaign when the time comes.

DEFECTIVE CHILDREN RATE REMAINS HIGH

Fifty per cent of Atlanta school children were found defective during the last school year, despite the intensive health program promulgated by high school officials, according to the annual report of Miss Lillian Alexander, superintendent of public health nurses of the city. The report was made Tuesday at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the sanitary committee of city council, of which Councilman W. E. Saunders is head.

A total of 27,555 school children were examined by doctors and nurses connected with the city health department during the last school year, and half of this number were found physically defective in some manner, Miss Alexander's report pointed out.

Many of these defects were of a minor nature and corrective measures were instituted immediately, some of them being cleared up within a few weeks.

A tabulation of effectiveness of the corrective and eliminative efforts were not accessible. Pre-school children showed even a higher percentage of defectiveness, according to the report, and out of 1,150 examined, 70 were pronounced defective.

Public health nurses made 19,000 visits during the fiscal year ending Tuesday. Miss Alexander is in charge of 22 public health nurses.

The above tabulations are for white children only.

The resignation of Mrs. Albert Davis, public health nurse in charge of health activities of Hoke Smith Junior High school, was accepted, and Miss Alexander reported that the resignation of Mrs. Ester Parks will become effective September 1.

Other routine business also was transacted.

EXPERT RETURNS
$100,000 SALARY
TO HUNGARIANS

Budapest, Hungary, June 29.—(AP) Jerniah Smith, American economist who recently completed his work of reorganizing Hungary's finances, today presented his salary of $100,000 for his two years' work to the Hungarian people.

The Boston financial expert told Chancellor Bethlen that the friendship and appreciation of the Hungarian people were all that he wished for his services.

Not only has Mr. Smith refused any salary from the Hungarian government, but he has declined to accept any part of his living expenses at Budapest during his two years' stay there. When Count Bethlen suggested that the Hungarian government would like to honor him with a high decoration, the Boston lawyer answered, "If you do, then I never shall forgive you. Your friendship and gratitude are more precious to me than any decoration."

Famous Comedian Greeted Upon Arrival
JEFFERSON D. ANGELIS WELCOMED BY CANDLER AND LEWIS HAASE
For Role in Atlanta Comic Opera Programs

Jefferson D'Angelis, famous musical comedy comedian star, who arrived in Atlanta Tuesday morning to join the Municipal Light Opera company in the presentation of a summer season of musical comedies, is shown above in center. He will make his first appearance here in "Robin Hood," the famous DeKoven masterpiece, week after next. He is shown above as he arrived at the Brookwood station and was greeted by Howard Candler, president of the Municipal Opera association, left, and Lewis Haase, manager for the association and manager of the Atlanta and the new Erlanger theater, now in course of construction.

Experts Accept Records of Byrd
On Polar Flight

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—Certification of the records of the Byrd polar expedition, showing that Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd, on May 9, flew over the north pole was made to Secretary Wilbur today by a special committee of the National Geographic society.

The society, which awarded Byrd the Hubbard gold medal upon his recent arrival here, announced at that time through its president, Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, that the committee of experts had found the explorer's claims to be correct, and today it made public a detailed log of the flight.

On the committee with Dr. Grosvenor were Frederick V. Colville and E. Lester Jones. They called in expert assistants in their examination of the data, including Hugh G. Mitchell and Henry G. Avers, senior and chief mathematician, respectively, of the coast and geodetic survey, and Albert H. Bumstead, chief cartographer of the National Geographic society and inventor of the sun compass Byrd used.

"These experienced calculators," Dr. Bumstead reported to the navy secretary, "have verified all of Commander Byrd's computations, devoting five days to the work; they also have critically examined the sextant used by Commander Byrd."

BY RALPH T. JONES.

Jefferson D'Angelis, latest acquisition for the Atlanta Municipal Opera company and one of the most famous of living musical comedy stars, arrived in Atlanta Tuesday, Tuesday night, over dinner in a quiet eating establishment not far from Five Points, Mr. D'Angelis and I talked about everything under the sun, moon and stars, except the theater business.

Mr. D'Angelis has been brought here as the first surprise to Atlanta of several that are up the sleeves of the summer opera management. He will be a fascinating addition to the company for his name is probably more famous in the musical comedy world than any name which has yet been associated with the local organization.

One of the greatest "sheriffs" ever to sing about his "eagle eye" in "Robin Hood," Mr. D'Angelis was engaged early in the season to play that part in the famous DeKoven opera, which is the bill for the fourth week of the current season.

Then, also, Mr. D'Angelis is famous wherever the name of Gilbert and Sullivan is known for his portrayal of the "major general" in the "Pirates of Penzance," and he was one of the most effective comedy leads any of the innumerable "Merry Widow" casts ever boasted. Both are to be given before the summer season ends.

Mr. D'Angelis was happy Tuesday night. He had found, contrary to warnings of, untraveled—in the south—friends in New York, that Atlanta is a more pleasant place in warm weather than any of the cities of the east. He also had found the Atlanta theater after searching for it all afternoon.

He played there only three years ago—in a revival of "The Merry Widow," but this time, try as he might, he couldn't find it. Half a dozen times he turned east along Edgewood, but always missed the way at the Hurt building and proceeded on down Edgewood until he gave up in disgust.

Then, having found the theater, he found two old friends, Lewis Haase, manager, and Charles Berton, musical director for the musical comedy season. Manager Haase had to go and explain to two disappointed ladies that he was sorry the house was sold out for the Wednesday matinee this week and that there was nothing left for most of the night performances nearer than the 14th row.

But D'Angelis and Berton talked calmly for a few minutes. Then someone mentioned "Pirates of Penzance." D'Angelis began humming "I Am the Very Model of a Major General." Berton began to beat time with his hat. They swung into "When the Foeman Bares His Steel," by this time both were singing. But Berton stopped when they reached "And when troubled with emetics and our hearts are in our—butes" sang D'Angelis.

"That's it, that's it," shouted the delighted Berton. "I wanted to hear whether you said 'butes' or 'boots.' Enter it is."

D'Angelis was beginning—
"I am the sheriff of Nottingham—"
But this story had to be written for an early edition so I left them to it.

Proposal To Kill Prohi Law Fund
Loses In House

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—After going on record by a roll call vote for the first time this session on a question involving a prohibition issue, the house today passed and sent to the senate the second deficiency appropriation bill.

The measure carried a total of $45,014,000, of which $14,156,000 is for 73 new public building projects throughout the country, all of which were approved without change.

The roll call involving prohibition came on a proposal by Representative Tydings, democrat, Maryland, to recommit the bill to the appropriations committee with instructions to eliminate an appropriation of $2,086,799 for the prohibition unit. The mover would be used to employ 906 additional dry agents, bringing the total strength of the enforcement squad to 4,203.

Representative Laguardia, progressive-socialist, New York, sought unsuccessfully to increase the appropriation by $100,000,000. Before his proposal was rejected, he shouted:

"Come on, you Anti-Saloon league men. Vote for this and we'll have real enforcement."

The bill's total was raised by $1,642,000 from $43,372,000 when the house accepted several minor amendments appropriating funds to care for items received too late for incorporation in the measure.

Included in the bill are appropriations of $1,000,000 to begin construction of three of the ten new vessels authorized for the coast guard to use against rum-runners; $5,770,000 for new barracks and buildings at 17 army posts; funds for the new aviation board and for administration of the Bingham-Parker aviation act; $275,000 for repairs to the white house; and $1,500,000 for the federal institution for women in Alderson, West Virginia.

DEMOCRATS NAME
THOMAS KEARNEY

Milwaukee, Wis., June 29.—(AP)—Thomas M. Kearney, Racine, was enlisted tonight by the state democratic convention to seek the United States senate seat of Irvin L. Lenroot, on a platform demanding submission of repeal of the 18th amendment to state constitutional conventions.

Seeing nothing but "increasing disaster" in the attempt of the United States to enforce national prohibition, Kearney, told the convention that manufacture and sale of intoxicants should be left to the individual states.

The chairman criticized the national prohibition enforcement in the keynote address.

"I have never before noted so complete a failure in any effort of government as that which has attended the attempted enforcement through national agencies of the Volstead act," Mr. Kearney asserted. "Drunkness abounds and crime walks abroad at midnight armed with machine guns. The young are being taught to evade and flout the law and the old go about in many cases laden with hip flasks presenting a semi-military appearance to the observer."

More Arrests Seen in Tampa Ax Murders

Tampa, Fla., June 29.—(AP)—Police were holding four men and a woman tonight in connection with the murders of an aged woman, a girl and two men who slept in a small cottage here early yesterday morning and who were beaten to death with an ax. Officers were continuing their investigation and announced more arrests were expected.

Elijah Carey was brought here this afternoon from Palmetto, where he was arrested yesterday and was questioned in connection with an alleged difficulty he had some time ago with Charles H. Alexander, 35, one of the victims of the murders. Mrs. Carey and Bill Johnson, formerly of Clearwater, who had been rooming at the house where the murder was committed, were arrested last night, and E. F. Keen and Lee Weaver, who were said to have been at the house the night before the murder, also were being held.

Aviator in Plane Saves LIFE SAVER CONCEALS IDENTITY
Life of Drowning Soldier

New York, June 29.—(AP)—The first "flying life saver" bobbed up in the news today.

Private James Stanley was seized with cramps 500 yards from shore after he had sought relief from the heat in the waters of Long Island sound with a number of other soldiers from Fort Meade.

Overhead humbled the privately owned hydroplane, Turtle II. The pilot, looking down from the cockpit, saw the soldier drowning and swooped to the water. Jockeying his ship toward the helpless swimmer, the aviator leaned out and pulled Stanley across one of the wings.

The crew of the government launch Q-12 who had heard Stanley's cries, removed the soldier from the hydroplane to the post hospital, where it was said he would recover.

"That was pretty slick work," called one of the launch crew to the aviator. "You'd better let us have your name so we can tell the boys who made the rescue."

"Oh, forget it," grinned the flyer. His propeller had been lazily flapping around. There was a sudden whir, the motor roared—through the water he swished, ascended into the air and disappeared in the direction of Long Island.

"It's impossible to trace him, because the plane is privately owned," said an army officer at the garrison.

Though cypress trees often grow with their roots submerged, their seed will not sprout under water.

A New York skyscraper now being built will be 800 feet high and will contain a church, a hospital, a bank and a hotel.

The CONSTITUTION-SPORTSMAY DIRECT
WILL RACE
AT LAKEWOOD

May Direct, 14-months-old filly, who is contender for the world's yearling championship, will start her first full speed dash around the full mile distance at Lakewood park Saturday afternoon, regardless of the age class to which she is finally assigned by the powers that be in the racing world. It was announced definitely Tuesday by Dick Rogers, her trainer and driver.

The filly was originally entered for a time trial in the yearling class but her right to that class was questioned by the race officials of the Southeastern Fair association, who held that the date of her birth, before January 1 of last year, placed her in the two-year class regardless of her actual age.

Mr. Rogers stated that he will race his filly against an automobile in the time trial Saturday, starting her over the first quarter at 25 miles an hour, as registered on the speedometer of the car, and letting the automobile driver speed her up until he will be following at a speed faster than 30 miles an hour over the last quarter. If she is finally placed as a yearling she will have to beat 2:19 1-4, established by Rose McGowan at Lexington in 1914, and if she is rated officially as a two-year-old she will have to beat 2:11 flat, established last Saturday by Evelyn Harvester on the Memphis track.

Evelyn Harvester, the record holder, incidentally, is the niece of Harvest Dew, the D. L. Peacock pacer by the Harvester, who is entered to start in the 2:22 race at Lakewood Saturday and in the 2:00 pace Monday.

BALL PLAYERS,
TAXI DRIVERS
IN BATTLES

New Orleans, June 29.—(AP)—A ball players' birthday, a class between athletes and taxi drivers, a losing contest by the chauffeurs in court and several hours of sleep lost by Manager Milton Stock, of the Mobile baseball club, made up a series of episodes in the lives of all concerned here last night and this morning. The chapter was said to have been opened when Pitcher Allison O'Brien was released on his birthday. According to police, when Secretary Pickens handed the pitcher the document making him a free agent, O'Brien exchanged a blow for the release. Another player tried to pacify the belligerent pitcher and he, too, stopped a hard fight.

The scene of activities was then transferred from a hotel lobby to the sidewalk where O'Brien was soon reported in an altercation with a taxi driver. Police were called and reported that on their arrival they found three players in a "jam" with the chauffeur. Catcher Pete Ritzke and Pitcher George Murray trying to separate O'Brien and the taxi driver.

Manager Stock was aroused from sleep to accompany the players to night court. They were paroled, but, returning to their hotel, encountered a dozen cabmen who at once went into action. The strategy of the athletes was flight and they successfully executed the maneuver of sprinting to the hotel.

Police were again summoned and assisted in a round-up of chauffeurs. Four were identified and sentenced to pay fines of $25 for disturbing the peace. One failed to remove his cap and was sentenced to 24 hours in jail for contempt of court.

FRENCHCHAMP WILL BATTLE
TITLE HOLDER

New York, June 29.—Within one week after the Paul Berlenbach-Jack Delaney light-heavyweight championship fight, the winner will meet Francis Charles, who holds the European title at 175 pounds, according to announcement by Humbert J. Fugazy, promoter.

Charles, accompanied by Andre Routs, featherweight champion of Europe, and other boxers, arrived here Tuesday and signed for the bout. The Frenchman went at once to Madame Bey's Summit (N. J.) camp to start training. Berlenbach also is working out there for the Delaney fight July 15.

Fugazy, apparently bent upon cornering the light-heavyweight market and leaving the bigger fry to his rival, Tex Rickard, announced that Berlenbach and Delaney both had agreed to meet Charles. The prospects are, however, that the fight on the 15th will be a desperately contested, grueling affair which scarcely will leave the winner in shape to defend his title the following week. With this in mind, Fugazy's date of July 21 for the bout between Charles and the winner seems a little early.

Fight On Short Notice.
The Frenchman never has given any indication that he will be a match for Paul Berlenbach, who has been the champion of the world's title at such short notice. Fugazy also proposed to the New York state athletic commission that he would match Jack Dempsey with the winner of the Berlenbach-Delaney fight, but got the old answer of "Willie—Willie—Willie."

Betting on the forthcoming championship fight is at even money. W. L. Darnell, a bookie on Sixth street, who holds big bets on sporting events, reported a wager of $3,000 to $7,500 that Paul will win by a knockout.

Friends Subscribe
To Matty Memorial

New York, June 29.—(AP)—Friends of the late Christy Mathewson, great pitcher of the New York Giants more than a decade ago, today subscribed $11,900 toward the fund for a memorial. The meeting was called by Mayor Walker and took place in his reception office.

"We could spend one hundred million dollars for educational purposes in New York city in special ways," the mayor told the more than 100 gathered, "and still not accomplish more for the young folk of this city than Matty did during his lifetime as student, amateur athlete, professional ball player, father, husband and citizen."

The national league contributed $1,000, while $100 in that circle and the Philadelphia Americans gave $500 each. Other large contributions were made by individuals high in the baseball world and various league organizations, and an offering of $100 came from the disabled soldiers of Saranac Lake, where Matty died. He was a veteran of the world war.

THE HOWARD
One of the outstanding hits of Gus Edwards' "Kiddie Revue," the current Public stage presentation in the greater Howard theatre, is Adeline Seaman, whose dancing just stops the show. Miss Seaman is the same girl who, appearing ostensibly in support of W. C. Fields and Johnny Ray Deoley in last year's "Ziegfeld's Follies," shared the leading honors with the principals.

Realistically picturing the clash between the old and the new generation, "Paddedlock," Allan Dwan's latest Paramount production, is a moving and powerful plea for tolerance and sympathetic understanding on the part of the older folk in their relation to modern youth.

Readers of the Cosmopolitan Magazine will recall the story by Rex Beach which appeared serially some months ago. Louis Moran is star.

West End Theater.
"The Virginian" is the attraction on the screen at the West End theatre today. This pictureization of the famous novel stars Kenneth Harlan and it is said that it is this actor's finest effort.

A story that will appeal to every type of audience and with a cast that is the last word in talent, it is assuredly one of the best pictures of the year. Kenneth Harlan is cast in the type of role in which he made his debut and his success in—that of the strong and noble man's man.

The Rialto.
Earl Derr Bigger's Saturday Evening Post story, "The Agony Column," a last moving mystery, pictureized by Warner Bros. under the title of "The Man Upstairs," is at the Rialto theatre this week. Monte Blue is the star and Dorothy DeVore plays his leading lady. The comedy is Mack Sennett's "From Rags to Britches."

"Stella Dallas."
(Next Week.)
"Stella Dallas," adapted from the famous novel by Mrs. Olive Higgins Prouty, will open for an engagement starting Monday.

The management of the Metropolitan theatre also recommends "Stella Dallas" as one film that will live in the memory after it is seen. It is great in story, cast and superb in its heart-wrenching appeal.

"Stella Dallas" has had an amazing vogue as a popular story, then as a novel, and later as a stage play in which Mrs. Leslie Carter starred. The theme is already known to millions for its distinction and power.

The screen version of this mighty book was directed by Henry King. Striking the keynote of romance, "Stella Dallas" on the screen, bares the love life of the central character played by Belle Bennett.

There is no moral in the story. It is entertainment of a high order. It is romance, realistic with laughter and pathos, leaving Stella as puzzled as life is itself.

Harris and Quinn
Fined for Stalling

Chicago, June 29.—(AP)—President Ban Johnson of the American league today fined Bucky Harris, manager of the Senators, and Pitcher Jack Quinn, of the Athletics, $200 each for stalling in the second game of a doubleheader in Philadelphia last Thursday.

President Johnson said these players purposely delayed the game in the fifth inning so that an impending rain storm might terminate the contest before it became a game.

Swat King Hits
Another Homer

Philadelphia, June 29.—(AP)—Babe Ruth hit his 20th home run of the season in the fifth inning of the Yankees-Athletics game today.

Bill Lamar, Athletics' outfielder, crashed into the right field wall in attempting to catch the drive and suffered an injury to his back which compelled him to leave the game. He was replaced by Welch.

In the fourth Ruth went to first base for New York after Gehrig, who had hit a homer in the first, protested a strike decision so vehemently that he was ordered off the field.

Rosenbloom Wins
From Dave Shade

New York, June 29.—Maxey Rosenbloom, of Harlem, proved his early victory over Dave Shade, of the Queensboro Golf club, tonight before 10,000 fans.

The decision was well merited, Rosey having the better of six rounds and two being even.

Rosenbloom weighed 164; Shade, 155.

Amusements

Atlanta Theater.

"Her Regiment," that light opera of Victor Herbert, which has captivated two audiences at the Atlanta theatre this week, will play today to two houses, the bargain matinee and the evening performance. Vera May, the charming little star, has divided applause with Lou Powers, the comedian, who on several occasions has stopped the show so that the convulsed audience could take up his dialogue. Atlanta's second week of municipal light opera has gone over with the same dash and brilliance which characterized the opening performances.

Tickets for next week's offering of "Naughty Marietta" will go on sale today at 10 o'clock at the theatre. No reservations are taken over the telephone.

Loew's Grand.
Loew's "Kiddie Revue" which is being offered as a special added attraction at Loew's Grand theatre this week, is scoring one of the biggest hits ever made by a local production. Fifty-five children are in the cast and they offer a program of marvelous dances, pretty song hits and special musical numbers. Special costumes, special scenery, special lighting effects and a special musical score are provided for the show. The regular vaudeville bill is one of unusual merit being headed by Clay Crouch.

The Loew's picture is "Rolling Home," with Reginald Denny leading.

THE HOWARD
One of the outstanding hits of Gus Edwards' "Kiddie Revue," the current Public stage presentation in the greater Howard theatre, is Adeline Seaman, whose dancing just stops the show. Miss Seaman is the same girl who, appearing ostensibly in support of W. C. Fields and Johnny Ray Deoley in last year's "Ziegfeld's Follies," shared the leading honors with the principals.

Realistically picturing the clash between the old and the new generation, "Paddedlock," Allan Dwan's latest Paramount production, is a moving and powerful plea for tolerance and sympathetic understanding on the part of the older folk in their relation to modern youth.

Readers of the Cosmopolitan Magazine will recall the story by Rex Beach which appeared serially some months ago. Louis Moran is star.

West End Theater.
"The Virginian" is the attraction on the screen at the West End theatre today. This pictureization of the famous novel stars Kenneth Harlan and it is said that it is this actor's finest effort.

A story that will appeal to every type of audience and with a cast that is the last word in talent, it is assuredly one of the best pictures of the year. Kenneth Harlan is cast in the type of role in which he made his debut and his success in—that of the strong and noble man's man.

The Rialto.
Earl Derr Bigger's Saturday Evening Post story, "The Agony Column," a last moving mystery, pictureized by Warner Bros. under the title of "The Man Upstairs," is at the Rialto theatre this week. Monte Blue is the star and Dorothy DeVore plays his leading lady. The comedy is Mack Sennett's "From Rags to Britches."

Senators Release
Outfielder Tobin

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—Utility outfielder Johnny Tobin was released unconditionally today by the Washington American baseball club. With Pitcher Joe Bush he came from the St. Louis Browns in exchange for Pitchers Zachary and Ballou. Bush was released by the Senators last week.

Trophies Arrive
At Thomasville

Thomasville, Ga., June 29.—(Special).—"The Marabes of Glynn Cup," the handsome trophy offered by the Brunswick Golf club to be contended for at the annual Fourth of July invitation golf tournament to be held here next week, has arrived and is on exhibition. As the 14 trophies for the other matches had already been donated, this trophy will be played for in a special match, in which teams of the local clubs will compete. Some club may enter, all clubs entered four or more men in the tournament being requested to nominate four members to represent the club in the team match play.

The lowest aggregate medal score of the four team members in the qualifying round of 18 holes Monday will determine the winner.

Entries for the tournament are coming in every day and more interest is being shown in this, the eighth annual tournament of the Glen Acre club, than ever before.

All entries will close at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, July 3, and they, as well as the nomination of four members of clubs to compete in team play, must be in the hands of J. B. Jensen, chairman of the tournament committee, by that time so that the final qualifying round may be made Saturday.

The social part of the tournament has not been neglected and the entertainment committee has arranged an attractive program of bridge parties for Monday and Tuesday nights and a dance for Wednesday night.

Florida League
Discards 6 Wins

Tampa, Fla., June 29.—(AP)—Six victories of the Sanford Celerfeds were thrown out at a meeting here today of officials of the Florida State league on a charge that Catcher Wallace was being carried as a Class A player in violation of league rules. The forfeited victories were three against St. Petersburg and three against Fort Myers.

More victories could have been disallowed, but it was shown that Wallace had been signed by Sanford without intention of violating the rule. It was shown that he played previously with St. Petersburg, in the Virginia league.

Bradenton, Lakeland, St. Petersburg and Fort Myers were the clubs that lost the forfeited victories. Sanford, and there was some discussion on who would be given the disallowed victories. As Fort Myers is struggling to remain in the league and as St. Petersburg recently lost several games in a penalty, the victory was divided between them.

The league boosted salaries from $2,250 a month to $2,400 a month for each team, the regulation Class D league salary limit. This means an increase of $25 a month for six players on a team.

Youthful Macon Junior Lightweight Unable to Evade Heavy Punches of Marietta Boy—Dugan Forced to Quit.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.

Atlanta fight fans saw at the city auditorium Tuesday night one of the finest programs of fights ever presented to an Atlanta audience with the exception of the fact that K. O. Billy Dugan, of Adairville, Ga., got sick during his heavyweight battle with Benny Touchston and was escorted from the ring at the end of the sixth round. The fact that Hollis Sullivan won from Herbert Baby Stribling and that Benny Reagan beat Honey Boy Snipes rather badly was self-evident to a crowd which didn't like Eddie Hanlon's decision for Sullivan. Promoter Herbert Watson was well pleased.

Black Crackers'
Last Game Today

Rain again halted the Black Crackers in next to their last appearance here before the second half of the colored Southern league schedule goes into effect.

Due to the lateness of the train on which they were coming to Atlanta Monday afternoon, the opening game of the four-game series with the colored Chattanooga team was postponed. Later, however, it was decided to play a double-header Tuesday, which was rained out. Today the Black Crackers heading for Montgomery will play a five-game series. They will open in Montgomery Thursday.

The best battle of the night was not the Sullivan-Stribling fracas, but the encounter between Benny Reagan and Honey Boy Snipes, the latter a visitor and Benny an Atlanta bantamweight. They had met before and Snipes had won a decision, so Benny had something for which to fight, and he did. He gave Honey Boy a game and fast stepping battle, a fine pasting which Honey Boy didn't seem to mind. The little Atlanta battler showed that he had real class and that he is entitled to a meeting with some boy of ability. He upset Snipes for a count of five in the third and kept pasting him from that time on.

Waivers Asked
On Four Players

Spartanburg, S. C., June 29.—(AP)—Waivers on four players have been asked by the Spartanburg baseball club, of the South Atlantic league. It was announced at club headquarters today. The players are Thirdbaseman Chestnut, Outfielder Frew, Pitcher Sullivan and Catcher Lamb. Club officials said the move was a "feeler" to ascertain whether any other club in the circuit wished one or more of the players involved.

Chestnut is playing his fifth season with the Spartans. Frew was a sensation last season, but has failed to hit this year. Sullivan was drafted from the Piedmont league, where he was a consistent winner in 1925. Lamb managed the Springfield club in the Three-Eye league last season and is now second-string receiver for the local club.

Tilden To Defend
Title Next Week

Detroit, June 29.—(AP)—William T. Tilden has advised Carl Grawn, president of the Springfield club, that he will defend his title in the national clay court championships to be played here next week.

The announcement culminates negotiations of several weeks which went so far as to contemplate bringing to Detroit from Philadelphia the theatrical production in which Tilden is appearing.

Tilden will be accompanied by L. Weiner, Philadelphia; Junior Coen, Kansas City, and Don Strachan, Germantown, Pa.

Other entries include Alfred H. Chapin, Brian Norton, George Lott and John Hennessy with the probability that Manuel Alonso and Granston Holman also will compete.

Travelers Sell
Bill Whaley

Little Rock, Ark., June 29.—(AP)—New Orleans club was announced by President Allen, of the Travelers, that he had sold the club to the Travelers from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league at an inflated price, but was transferred to the outfield. Though he has played good ball, his batting has fallen off and he leaves with an average of .273.

Metropolitan Film
Abounds in Laughs
And Clever Stunts

Those responsible for "Ella Cinders," the current attraction at the Metropolitan theatre, have found a film with an entertaining photoplay with enough clever situations to make it bring the laughs. "Ella Cinders," with Colleen Moore in the leading role, starts in true fair tale style with Colleen sitting ashes and tending the furnace. From the first few feet of the film it appears that the purpose was to construct a satire on the fairy tale, "Cinderella," but the idea is soon abandoned.

After the usual footage devoted to preliminaries showing the sad plight of poor Colleen, the story gets under way with announcement of a beauty contest, the winner to take the trip to Hollywood and everything. The contestants all have their pictures made and Colleen, who has entered herself, is flashed just at the moment that a fly was performing tricks on her nose, and the result seems to indicate that the illustrious Mr. Turpin has a rival.

Colleen wins and leaves for the City of Hopes, where she finds that the men who conducted the contest were dishonest. She performs the usual wandering from "studio to studio" with an abandon that is in itself a masterpiece. After she succeeds in eluding the gatekeeper and effecting entrance to a lot, she becomes entangled with a lion at liberty, and, in her way to get away, stumbles onto the location of a company which is in the midst of a more or less spectacular fire scene, where the mother is supposed to show grief over her inability to save her child. The necessary mother seems to be missing and the short-sighted director mistakes Colleen for his star. Her efforts to make him understand that it is a lion causing her to show emotion are rather amusing.

Lloyd Hughes is the "fairy prince" and does very well in the few scenes allotted to him. The overture "Dance of the Hours." An "Our Gang" comedy is shown.

Dividend Suit Against Southern Opens in Richmond

Richmond, Va., June 29.—(AP)—The suit of Arthur Lyman, of Mass., against the Southern Railway, deposited a certified check for $12,000 with the Illinois state athletic commission today as a forfeit for the lightweight champion to defend against Sammy Mandell, the Rockford challenger, at the White Sox ball park Saturday afternoon.

The suit, which is to be decided under the newly created commissions, will be 10 rounds to a referee's decision. A squad of carpenters started work at the Sox park today to erect the ring and build the field seats. There are accommodations for more than 37,000.

While the amount involved in the suit is only $12,000 this year, it was said that it would amount to approximately $300,000,000. Suit was started when last year the Southern railway declared a 5 to 12 per cent dividend to common stockholders, paying only the regular 5 per cent to preferred. This year the company increased its dividend to common stockholders to 7 per cent.

Mr. Lyman contended that preferred stockholders had participated in the earnings of the company for many years, and that the railway was entitled to the surplus after payment of the preferred stockholders' dividend should go to common stockholders.

1/20th of the Earth's LAND
1/16th of the World's POPULATION
1/3rd of the World's RAILWAY MILEAGE

The statement has been made repeatedly in these bulletins that the people of the United States enjoy the best transportation service in all the world. Evidence has been given to show that better passenger service is afforded the American people, better equipment, faster and more frequent schedules and lower freight and passenger rates. It is a significant fact that while the United States of America occupies only one-twentieth of the earth's land surface and contains only one-sixteenth of the world's population, it has one-third of the world's railway mileage.

The business of the American railroads is to take things from where they are plentiful to places where they are scarce, and to transport people from one section of the country to another. The figures quoted above, and the records of performance for the past few years, furnish proof conclusive that the job is being well done.

We believe that these bulletins published regularly in this newspaper will interest you.

I Am
Her Husband
(There Are Many Like Me)

I regret that our purely domestic affairs have had to be subjected to public notice and discussion. I AM NOT ASHAMED because my wife was a mill-town working girl. I knew that when I married her. But I do ask YOU whether a wife by carelessness and indiscretions has a RIGHT TO ruin her husband's position, or his business and social standing? Should marriage give a woman A MISERABLE AND UNFAIR ADVANTAGE OVER A MAN?

I ask society to concede me no advantage over my wife in the way of public opinion, but I also DENY that ours IS A STORY WITH ONLY ONE SIDE TO IT. Many may say or think that WHAT MY WIFE HAS DONE TO ME IS MERELY WHAT THOUSANDS OF WOMEN DO TO MEN, but I say publicly that her nobility and sacrifice in the great crisis of her life IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST, FINEST THINGS A WOMAN EVER DID.

Pete Latzo Kayoes Harmon in Battle For Welter Crown

Challenger Piles Up Lead on Points in Early Rounds—Champion Lands Fatal Blow in Fifth Round of Fast Fight.

BY FRANK GETTY.

Dreamland Park, Newark, N. J., June 29.—It was "Dreamland" for Willie Harmon Tuesday night when the New York Italian tried to wrest Pete Latzo's newly acquired title from the welterweight king.

A right hand smash to the jaw in the fifth round, after a terrific body bombardment, knocked out Harmon for the first time in that ambitious veteran's career.

Latzo, who weighed 158 pounds to Harmon's 144.3, bled his time for two rounds, letting Willie pile up a lead. Then he cut loose and quickly took all the steam out of the New Yorker. The knockout blow, a right cross to the jaw, delivered after two minutes and 50 seconds of the fifth round, dropped Harmon flat on his back, where he lay with unseeing eyes until carried to his corner.

He was "out" for more than 20 minutes. The New Yorker, although out, weighed by nearly nine pounds, carried the fight to Latzo at the start. Shows More Fight.

Willie showed more aggressiveness than in recent fights, shooting lefts to the champion's head, while the Scotman slipped to the canvas in the first, but was up without a count.

Latzo landed with both hands, having all the better of the round. Pete ripped rights and lefts to the body with telling effect in the fifth, and Willie curled up and quit.

U. S. NET STARS EASY VICTORS AT WIMBLEDON

Wimbledon, June 29.—American spectators at Wimbledon were getting a thrill from the rush of Molla Mallory to the top flight of the women's singles.

Many now believe that the former American women's tennis champion will come through and win the all-England title. Mrs. Mallory has won her way into the semifinals of the hard-hitting Katarina Bouman, of Holland, on Tuesday, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

With Suzanne Lenglen out, Mrs. Mallory has to dispose of Senorita Alvarez of Spain, and either Mlle. "Didi" Vlasto, of France, or Mrs. L. Godfree, of England, to capture the women's singles championship. If the former Kitty McKane should turn the tables upon the diminutive Frenchwoman, Godfree would be the Spanish opponent in the semifinal round, there would be an Anglo-Saxon final where the best that had been hoped for was a French victory.

Women Stars Advance. Elizabeth Ryan and Mary K. Browne also advanced Tuesday in the women's doubles, defeating Mrs. Lambert Chambers and Miss E. H. Harvey, 3-6, 6-2, 7-5.

Vincent Richards and Howard Kinnery defeated the semifinal round of the men's doubles as did Jacques Brugnon and Henri Cochet, the French pair.

Molla Mallory, paired with D. M. Greig, was eliminated from the mixed doubles by Mrs. Lambert Chambers and J. D. P. Wheatley.

Meanwhile, Suzanne Lenglen, who definitely announced her withdrawal from all phases of the Wimbledon championships, spent Tuesday in a hotel nursing an arm which she declared was ailing.

The singles semi-finals will be played Wednesday with Kinnery opposing Brugnon and Henri Cochet, the American is favored to win over Brugnon, while Cochet, winner of the French hard court title, and present champion of the Wimbledon, is expected to defeat Kinnery.

BOBBY'S WIFE AND MOTHER TO WIN OPEN AT COLUMBUS

Big Reception on Arrival Express Joy Over Victory

New York, June 29.—To Bobby Jones' wife and mother life these days is one glorious maelstrom of happiness.

"When it comes to Bobby," they said today at the Vanderbilt, where they are awaiting the return of their husband and son, the 24-year-old Atlanta youngster who won the British open golf championship, "we think of course. We're wonderfully happy, of course. The whole thing is wonderful—what more can you say?"

Bobby is due here Friday on the Cunard liner Aquitania, and plans are under way for a triumphal greeting. Certainly the smiles and happy voices of Mrs. Bobby Jones, 36, and Mrs. Bobby Jones, Jr., as they term themselves, auger well for "Little Bobby," who will arrive here Monday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Black and Mrs. Sherman Hunt, of Atlanta.

It is not known yet whether Bobby will return to Atlanta at once or whether he will enter the American open championship at Columbus, Ohio, starting July 8. Mrs. Jones will accompany him in event that he does so.

Bobby's father, who has been delayed because of business, will arrive tomorrow and join in the welcome.

More than 250 Atlantans are expected to arrive here Thursday to join the celebration on Bobby's arrival.

Walter Sims, Mayor of Atlanta, will head the delegation, which will include prominent residents of the city.

Fifty Atlantans attending the sequential exposition at Philadelphia are expected to arrive here today, according to a telegram received today from Fred Houser, publicity director for the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

On the arrival of the Aquitania Bobby and Watts Gunn, 20-year-old Atlanta golfer, member of the Walker cup team, and runner-up last year to Bobby in the national amateur meet, will be taken to the city hall, where they will be honored by Mayor Walker. In the evening dinner in honor of the two boys will be given at the Biltmore hotel by the Atlanta and various golf clubs of New York.

JONES PICKED TO WIN OPEN AT COLUMBUS

Champion's Arrival Expected Tomorrow

Columbus, Ohio, June 29.—(AP)—With nine former national open champions and Willie MacFarlane, the titleholder, among contestants next week for the 1926 American golf crown, chances of a rank outsider winning are not viewed as particularly bright in this city which is to entertain the tournament.

Bobby Jones, because of his brilliant playing abroad, where he has been golfing for years, is the prime favorite. Other of the American contingent which recently completed its foreign campaign are conceded good chances to be in the money.

A check of the qualifiers against the official record book today showed that these champions are eligible to compete here July 8, and 10.

Alex Ross, 1907; Fred McLeod, 1908; Francis Ouimet, 1913; Walter Hagen, 1914 and 1919; Chick Evans, 1916; Jim Barnes, 1921; Gene Sarason, 1922; Bobby Jones, 1923; Cyril Walker, 1924, and Willie MacFarlane, 1925.

Among the runners-up, exclusive of those who sooner or later topped the American open title, are: Bobby Cruikshank, 1923; Jack Hutchison and Leo Diegel, 1920, and Mike Brady, 1909 and 1911.

More than ever did Hadley exhibit his coolness under fire. Twice did he elect to pitch to terrible Tommy Griffith when runners were on the bases.

And the sum total of Tommy's swinging at those crucial moments was a sacrifice fly to count one runner of two on the bags in the seventh, and a roller for the third and game ending out in the ninth with one man on.

The Cracker connected with Hadley's benders in copious quantities, however. An even dozen safeties were garnered by the visitors, while all that the Barons had to offer in comparison of Markle and Cavet were been enhanced greatly.

Displays Coolness. More than ever did Hadley exhibit his coolness under fire. Twice did he elect to pitch to terrible Tommy Griffith when runners were on the bases.

And the sum total of Tommy's swinging at those crucial moments was a sacrifice fly to count one runner of two on the bags in the seventh, and a roller for the third and game ending out in the ninth with one man on.

The Cracker connected with Hadley's benders in copious quantities, however. An even dozen safeties were garnered by the visitors, while all that the Barons had to offer in comparison of Markle and Cavet were been enhanced greatly.

Hadley Keeps Dozen Safeties by Champions Well Scattered—Wind Up Series This Afternoon.

Birmingham, Ala., June 29.—(Special.)—Bert Niehoff's Crackers fell one tally shy of the Barons today after this afternoon, and the third of the series went to the Dobbs brigade by a 4-to-3 count. Young Irving Hadley, the ex-Brown university blossom, recently sent here by the Senators, turned in his third consecutive triumph by trimming the invaders and continued his habit of letting the opposition down with the necessary minimum of tallies.

Cliff Markle was the choice of the Cracker skipper and Cliff was fairly hot until the fifth, when the Dobbers sacked up the afternoon's fruit by running their day's string to four. Tillar Cavet, always a healthy dose of poison here, was rushed in, as on Monday, to stem the baserunner tide.

"No," said the Cracker skipper, "the Barons were already in, and despite a determined effort in the eighth, which was good for one marker, Hadley breezed through safely."

Fascists Issue Drastic Decrees To Improve Lire

Rome, June 29.—(P)—The long-heralded fascist campaign for improvement of the financial situation and balancing of the international trade standing of Italy opened tonight with the issuance of an unusually drastic series of decrees.

Virtually every phase of commercial activity is touched by the orders which are designed to strengthen the lire and to cut down on the trade balance which last year showed a deficit of 8,000,000,000 lire. Authorization is granted for the increase in the length of the laborer's working day by one hour, but various kinds are restricted, efforts to aid the laboring class are suggested and utilization of Italy's natural products are encouraged.

The most important of the decrees which are intended to stimulate and to institute a regime of strictest economy are as follows:

- (1). Authorization for the increase of the working day by one hour.
- (2). Restriction of daily newspapers to six pages, prohibition of all special supplements excepting technical ones.
- (3). Prohibition of the opening of new bars, cafes, hotels, cabarets, pastry shops and night dancing resorts.
- (4). Prohibition of the construction of private houses and villas of a luxurious type. The only new construction permitted is of cheap houses for workers, farm laborers, and small salaried employees, farm houses, or cooperative apartments representing the district investment of small private savings. Special governmental aid is given for the building of cheap houses for employees of large industrial establishments.
- (5). Announcement that agreements have been reached for the reduction in price, without hurting the quality, of iron, cements, bricks and plaster.
- (6). Announcement that steps have been taken to help large employers open cantines in order to sell food to their employees at the lowest possible prices.
- (7). Announcement that agreements have been reached with industrialists to help in the production of domestic metals.
- (8). A special committee to help in the utilization of domestic fuels and minerals and to stimulate their production.
- (9). Authorization for the mixing of gasoline with alcohol, effective November 1.

The decrees also authorize the extension of activities for the sale of food stuffs to state employees resident in Rome. Minister of National Economy Beluzzo has been directed to study the advisability of using at least 15 per cent of other cereals in the milling of wheat flour.

FEDERAL FARM LOAN MEMBERS REDUCED TO FOUR

Washington, June 29.—(P)—The appointed membership of the federal farm loan board would be reduced from six to four in number under an amendment proposed today by Senator Trammell, Democrat, Florida, on behalf of Senator Fletcher, Democrat, Florida.

The measure provides that the two vacancies next occurring in the appointed membership shall not be filled and thereafter the membership shall be four.

of actual construction has not been decided yet it is hoped that the addition will be fully completed and ready for occupancy in early fall.

The addition will be thoroughly modern in every detail, and announced, every room being equipped with a bath. Other up-to-date equipment and appointments will be installed throughout the new structure.

G. Lloyd Freacher & Company, Inc., is one of the best known architectural concerns in this section.

Hotel Demands Heavy.

Mr. Davis told The Constitution that the expansion program is necessitated because of heavy demands on the present hotel facilities and because of the northward business growth of Atlanta.

"The big Hampton will be just across the street from the great hotel garage, within a block of the Candler building, and in two blocks of the Hurt building," he said. "It will be in the heart of the theater district, and in fact in the very heart of Atlanta in its northward march. The section it is located in is developing at an amazingly rapid rate, and we feel there is no better or sounder basis for investment than in a big, modern hotel in this splendid section."

J. F. Mayfield, lessee, now operates the Hampton and will continue to do so under its enlarged program.

In connection with the Hotel Hampton announcement, it was made known that G. Lloyd Freacher & Company, Inc., is preparing plans for school buildings at Wilmington, N. C., and hotel buildings at Waycross, Ga., and Opelika, Ala.

WALKER TO RECEIVE JONES AND GUNN

help make the welkin ring for Atlanta's famous sons. New York promises to take off the list.

To show the city of New York what the metropolis of the south thinks of its golf star the official flag of the city of Atlanta and the official flag of the state of Georgia have been borrowed by the welcoming committee and they will be carried in the parade when Jones and Gunn leave the Candler pier. They will be kept in charge of a special guard.

Some definite purpose of arrangements was reached at a meeting of the committee heading the welcome during a noon meeting at the Atlanta Athletic club. A dinner, a reception and a dance will be tendered the returning golfers at the Vanderbilt hotel, and these will be informal.

Not so many reservations as were expected have been made for the trip north, so the plan for a special train has been abandoned, according to Jerome C. Beam, assistant general passenger agent for the Southern railway. Instead the necessary Pullmans will be attached to the regular Birmingham special, leaving the Peachtree station instead of the Terminal at 4-40 o'clock this afternoon.

Tickets for the trip at $30.50, return journey included, are on sale today at the Southern Railway ticket offices, as well as at the Atlanta Athletic club, where T. N. Bradshaw, secretary and treasurer of the welcoming committee, is dispensing them. Reservations may be made by telephoning him at Walnut 7430.

DAUGHTER'S DEATH LAID TO FATHER

Seattle, Wash., June 29.—(P)—Wallace Coyne Gaines was arrested today accused of beating and choking his daughter, Sylvia Howard Gaines, to death about an hour after she left his home here the night of June 16 for a solitary walk. He will be held without bail.

Louis Stern, a friend of Gaines, was arrested as a material witness. Miss Gaines, 22, a graduate last year of Smith college, Northampton, Mass., was the daughter of Gaines and Mrs. H. E. Maynard, Lynnfield, Mass. Gaines and Sylvia's mother separated 16 years ago and five years ago he married another woman. Last September Sylvia, having found her father through a search started by a clue in a newspaper, came here to live with him.

Information filed by Prosecutor Colvin charged that Gaines, whose wife was about to return from San Francisco, after four months' separation, "with premeditated design did effect the death of Sylvia Gaines with a rock or some other instrument unknown."

Gaines, on the stand yesterday, in a coroner's inquest which adjourned today when Colvin announced he was ready to arrest the father, admitted that he and Sylvia had a tiff over a proposed automobile trip just before she left the house.

Previously he had stated that he and his wife had quarreled about Sylvia, but when Mrs. Gaines arrived from California June 19, she said the quarrels were over her husband's drinking and that when she shot herself last winter she was nervous from trying to keep up with her husband in his potations so that he would not imberbe alone or go with others.

ANOTHER SON OF KING GEORGE FALLS FROM HORSE

Albany, England, June 29.—(P)—Prince Henry, third son of King George, fell from his horse today in a jumping competition here today. A dog frightened his mount, which reared and threw the prince. Henry fell on his back, but jumped up immediately and proclaimed himself unhurt.

Later, he gained the reserve prize in the class for officer hunters.

Ponzi To Fight His Extradition For Boston Trial

Houston, Texas, June 29.—(P)—Charles Ponzi, Boston "financial wizard," today declared he would fight extradition to Massachusetts unless permitted by Attorney General J. R. Benton, of that state, to exile himself from the United States. He was returned here today after his arrest in New Orleans yesterday by a local deputy sheriff.

Ponzi's statement followed a long distance telephone call to Boston when Police Inspector John P. Mitchell told him Massachusetts authorities were coming to return him to superior court in Boston where he faces a sentence of from 7 to 9 years as a "common and notorious thief."

When Mitchell told Ponzi that officers were coming after him, Ponzi declared:

"All right, come on. We'll fight it out down here and you are going to have a fight because I am not going to return until I have to, unless I am permitted to deport myself."

The financier said he had served a sentence in Massachusetts for using the mails to defraud and that his conviction by the state authorities for obtaining money on false pretenses was virtually a double prosecution for the same offense.

In contrast to a declaration that he had no criminal intent in his Boston financial operations, he asserted:

"If I then had the experience I now have I would still have plenty of money. I had my hands on $10,000,000 once and could have kept it. But I wanted to play square and I gave it up. But if I knew then what I know now, I would have kept it."

Less than an hour after Ponzi had arrived here today from New Orleans, where he was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff George Lacy, of Houston, the "wizard" had made $500. A Boston newspaper paid it with for an exclusive story of his wanderings.

"Pretty soft!" Ponzi said when he cashed a telegraphic order for the money at a bank.

A club of 18 women in Charlemon, Mass., has acquired a tract of 40 acres on which they plan to establish one of the first town forests in America. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has agreed to maintain the forest.

Case of Diamond Smuggler Rivals Thriller of Movies

Smuggled diamonds—on a lone ship on ocean wastes with a mysterious passenger pacing the decks alone—a secret service operator of the United States working single-handed in a foreign country against conspirators against his country—a sudden railroad journey—the black leather handbag which contains the loot—arrest—conviction—sentence—chancing of iron-barred prison doors behind the prisoner's back.

And then, a ray of sunshine in the gloom, the clattering foot-beats—of a pursuing motor, perhaps—of a receptive bearer. The prisoner leaves the hostile once more, thanks to the United States circuit court of appeals, and hope once more springs eternal in the human breast.

All of the above ingredients for thrilling romance are contained in the life-story of Lieb Rittman, for a short while a guest of Uncle Sam at his free hostelry on the outskirts of Atlanta. They all happened to Rittman since the beginning of this good year of grace, 1926.

Early in January Rittman left his home in Antwerp, Holland, for America. He sailed from Cherbourg on board the S. S. Homeric. He was described in the passenger manifest as a diamond merchant coming to America on business on a six-month temporary entry permit.

Before he sailed, however, certain things had happened, and they had been witnessed by a secret operator of the United States customs. Rittman had mailed a package to himself, addressed to Montreal, Canada.

Rittman reached New York on January 29. He had no difficulty in landing, for he was apparently an average, well-to-do business man. He traveled first-class and all his passport, visas, etc., were in perfect order. His address in New York he gave as a business establishment on Nassau street.

On January 25 while customs operative, unknown to him, carefully watched his every move, Rittman boarded the train for Montreal. He left Montreal, on the journey back to New York, January 28, and that night just after the train had crossed the international boundary at St. Albans, Vt., Rittman was arrested. The important handbag was seized and opened, and unset diamonds valued at $122,492.43 were found.

Rittman at the time of the arrest said that loss of the gems would ruin his firm. The import duty on that amount of diamonds amounts to about $40,000.

Rittman was sentenced to a year and a day in the Atlanta penitentiary. He was received here by Warden John W. Sash on April 14.

Shortly thereafter, Immigration Director M. A. Coykendall went to the prison in order to arrange deportation proceedings against Rittman, pending his release at completion of his short term on December 20, 1926.

But Rittman had gone. His case had been appealed and the federal appellate court had reversed the judgment of the trial court. Rittman is free on bond, awaiting retrial in federal district court in Vermont.

AGREEMENT MADE TO LIMIT DEBATE ON RIVERS BILL

Washington, June 29.—(P)—A tentative agreement to take up the rivers and harbors bill on next December 10, and to limit debate after December 15, was reached today by leaders on both sides in the senate.

If this agreement is approved by the senate—and objection by one senator would upset it—the leaders believe congress can adjourn next Saturday.

INSECT RAVAGES COTTON ACREAGE NEAR JACKSON, GA.

Jackson, Ga., June 29.—Butts county farmers report that an insect known as the Texas flea has inflicted serious damage to the cotton crop in this area. Appeals have been made to the state board of entomology for information regarding how to fight the pest.

Little complaint regarding the boll weevil has been made this year.

RUSSIAN COLONY PLAN ASSAILED BY TOURISTS

Buffalo, N. Y., June 29.—(P)—The 20th annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America closed here tonight with the passage of a resolution condemning the Russian colonization project, sponsored by the joint distribution committee in its $12,000,000 relief campaign for the Jews of eastern Europe.

Joseph Lipsky, New York, was re-elect president of the organization. A loan of $300,000,000 by the Jews of the world in order to settle 40,000 families on undeveloped land in Palestine during the next 10 years was urged by David Remes, Palestine labor leader and head of the Palestine Workers' Cooperative association.

"Never in fifteen years have we been without Theodora's Black-Draught in our house," says Miss Susie Merahon, of Lancaster, Ky.

"Black-Draught is our regular family stand-by. A long while ago I was suffering with a spell of indigestion and I was real sick. I read in a paper how Black-Draught was good for such ailments, so I thought I would try it. In almost no time it had me on my feet again."

"Since then, I have kept Black-Draught always on hand. For family use, I have found it has no equal. The children often need a mild laxative, and I always give them Black-Draught."

"Occasionally I have awful headaches—the blinding kind, which come across the front of my head and temples. This, I think, is a form of biliousness, and when I have one of these spells, I begin taking Black-Draught, a pinch after meals, and in a short time I am well. The headache leaves me, and my color improves."

"My mother is 67 year old. I give her Black-Draught when she needs a mild remedy for constipation. Her health is generally very good, and about all she ever takes is Black-Draught. It is a natural remedy, composed of selected medicinal roots and herbs, and put up by modern, scientific, accurate methods."

"The great popularity of Theodora's Black-Draught is itself an indication of the satisfaction it gives its millions of users."

Institute for Clubwomen Opens at State University

Athens, Ga., June 29.—(Special.) The Club institute opened Tuesday morning at Memorial hall, University of Georgia, with the largest enrollment in the four years' history. Mrs. C. M. Snelling, chairman of Club Institute, presided.

Dr. Stewart welcomed the guests to the summer school and Chancellor Snelling, who extended a welcome to the university, warmly praised women on the progress of the institute, citing it as a further instance of the increasing sphere of service the university is rendering the state. He was enthusiastically received by the large audience. He delivered a scholarly address on industrial development of the south and spoke feelingly of educational needs of the state which if realized today, will tomorrow, fit the university for greater service.

Mrs. Snelling welcomed the clubwomen and Mrs. W. L. Hodges, of Hartwell, responded in Mrs. Brantley's absence. She read a telegram from Mrs. Brantley regretting her absence.

Mrs. Hayes spoke on club organization and gave the high lights of the recent club meeting in Atlanta City. Mrs. J. C. Fleming, executive secretary of the committee, in his annual report to the commission, Dr. Wade emphasized that the recent downward trend for missionary work at home and abroad had been checked.

The total receipts for the benevolent and missionary work to the world service commission last year were $8,119,539. Dr. O. W. Auman, treasurer, reported. This represented an increase for every month except two over the corresponding period the year before.

The Cincinnati area showed a gain of 21 per cent; Detroit, 17 per cent; Chicago, 14 per cent; Atlanta, 12 per cent; Omaha, 4 per cent; Washington, 4 per cent; and Buffalo, 2 per cent. The report said. It showed distribution of the funds to be: Board of foreign missions, $2,740,205; board of home missions and church extension, $2,740,205; board of education, $1,261,397; board of hospitals, homes and deaconess work, $1,071,140; board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, $1,071,140; board of pensions and relief, $80,068; American Bible society, $80,068.

Macon Boy Dies As Hand Touches High Power Wire. Macon, Ga., June 29.—(Special.) Dallas Ingram, 14, of the Masonic Home of this city, died tonight, four hours after his body came in contact with a high voltage wire at the top of a transmission tower of the Central Georgia Power company. Sixty-six thousand volts passed through his body.

The boy told the Rev. J. E. Summer, superintendent, who carried him to the hospital, that he climbed the tower to get a view of the home from a distance.

Frank Standard, who came to the home from Atlanta, was half way up the tower when the Ingram boy fell. Other boys were at the base of the tower, while Jay Camp, farm superintendent, was calling to them to "come down."

TURKEY DISTRICT BOND VALIDATION UPHOLD BY COURT. Validation, by a lower court, of the Turkey school district bond issue was affirmed Tuesday by the supreme court of Georgia. The case was that of Eric Hawthorne and O. L. Chester against the Turkey district, the former having filed an intervention, allowed by the court, objecting to the validation.

Where two or more local school districts are consolidated, the validation set forth, "it is not necessary that the word 'consolidated' appear as part of the name selected for the consolidated district and it is proper for a proceeding to validate bonds to be conducted in the name of the district as fixed by the proper school authorities."

Hawthorne and Chester filed their intervention on the grounds the proceedings were in the name of Turkey district instead of Turkey District, Inc., that no list of qualified voters had been furnished as required by law, and that 13 females voted who had paid no poll tax for the years 1922, 1923 and 1924.

Another point brought out by the affirmation was that "under the facts of this case, the list of voters was prepared in accordance with the requirements of law and was furnished to the managers of the election, and provided for issuance of bonds by the collectors as required by law."

In answer to the charge against the female voters, it was brought out that "a female of more than 21 years of age by provision, an elector, properly construed, is not required to pay poll tax except in those years in which she may be registered as a voter."

Batchelor Decision DELAYED BY WALKER. Governor Clifford Walker announced late Tuesday afternoon that he had reached no decision in the case of J. D. Batchelor, condemned Jones county man seeking commutation of death sentence to life imprisonment. The governor said he would reach a decision in the case today.

Batchelor was convicted in Jones county of killing his mother-in-law, Mrs. Fannie Anderson, at Griswoldville, on May 8, 1925. The trial judge, selector and 11 members of the jury which convicted Batchelor asked that the death sentence be commuted.

Judge J. E. Potts, of Milledgeville, and W. M. Bailey, of Atlanta, presented a plea for commutation in the case. That stated that Mrs. Anderson was killed while Batchelor was trying to commit suicide. It was urged also that Batchelor was a man of low mentality.

One of the features of the case was the fact that Batchelor's wife and

Atlanta Shows Gain in Record Of Mission Fund

Chicago, June 29.—(Special.) The task of America is to make her prosperity, comfort and spiritual ideals universal, Bishop Frederick Fisher, of Calcutta, India, today told the world service commission of the Methodist Episcopal church, convening in annual session.

"All the nations of the world are awake with refreshing idealism," he said, "but await the sacrificial leadership of America."

America has not lost her romance, the bishop asserted. "It is not the Arabian carpet which now thrills the mind of childhood, but the wonder of American invention, luxury, speed, efficiency and daring."

A heightened moral in benevolent work through Methodism was noted by Dr. R. J. Wade, executive secretary of the committee. In his annual report to the commission, Dr. Wade emphasized that the recent downward trend for missionary work at home and abroad had been checked.

Macon Boy Dies As Hand Touches High Power Wire. Macon, Ga., June 29.—(Special.) Dallas Ingram, 14, of the Masonic Home of this city, died tonight, four hours after his body came in contact with a high voltage wire at the top of a transmission tower of the Central Georgia Power company. Sixty-six thousand volts passed through his body.

The boy told the Rev. J. E. Summer, superintendent, who carried him to the hospital, that he climbed the tower to get a view of the home from a distance.

Frank Standard, who came to the home from Atlanta, was half way up the tower when the Ingram boy fell. Other boys were at the base of the tower, while Jay Camp, farm superintendent, was calling to them to "come down."

TURKEY DISTRICT BOND VALIDATION UPHOLD BY COURT. Validation, by a lower court, of the Turkey school district bond issue was affirmed Tuesday by the supreme court of Georgia. The case was that of Eric Hawthorne and O. L. Chester against the Turkey district, the former having filed an intervention, allowed by the court, objecting to the validation.

Where two or more local school districts are consolidated, the validation set forth, "it is not necessary that the word 'consolidated' appear as part of the name selected for the consolidated district and it is proper for a proceeding to validate bonds to be conducted in the name of the district as fixed by the proper school authorities."

Hawthorne and Chester filed their intervention on the grounds the proceedings were in the name of Turkey district instead of Turkey District, Inc., that no list of qualified voters had been furnished as required by law, and that 13 females voted who had paid no poll tax for the years 1922, 1923 and 1924.

Another point brought out by the affirmation was that "under the facts of this case, the list of voters was prepared in accordance with the requirements of law and was furnished to the managers of the election, and provided for issuance of bonds by the collectors as required by law."

In answer to the charge against the female voters, it was brought out that "a female of more than 21 years of age by provision, an elector, properly construed, is not required to pay poll tax except in those years in which she may be registered as a voter."

Batchelor Decision DELAYED BY WALKER. Governor Clifford Walker announced late Tuesday afternoon that he had reached no decision in the case of J. D. Batchelor, condemned Jones county man seeking commutation of death sentence to life imprisonment. The governor said he would reach a decision in the case today.

Batchelor was convicted in Jones county of killing his mother-in-law, Mrs. Fannie Anderson, at Griswoldville, on May 8, 1925. The trial judge, selector and 11 members of the jury which convicted Batchelor asked that the death sentence be commuted.

Judge J. E. Potts, of Milledgeville, and W. M. Bailey, of Atlanta, presented a plea for commutation in the case. That stated that Mrs. Anderson was killed while Batchelor was trying to commit suicide. It was urged also that Batchelor was a man of low mentality.

Overseas League Rejects Plan To Conscript Wealth In U. S. in Event of War

Miss Helen Douglas of Atlanta Is Slated for Re-election as Head of Women's Organization.

Omaha, Neb., June 29.—(AP)—A resolution calling for conscription of all the wealth in the United States in case of another war was rejected almost unanimously by the Women's Overseas Service League at its annual national convention here today.

Only six of the 150 delegates voted for the resolution. One of these proponents was Miss Helen Douglas of Atlanta, Ga., president of the league, which consists of women who served with the American expeditionary forces. Miss Douglas said a resolution, similar to that adopted by the American legion at its national convention here in 1925 would be presented at the 1927 convention and she was certain it would be adopted.

Curtailment of funds for employment of hostesses in summer military training camps by the federal government was protested against in another resolution. A proposal calling for election of the national league president biennially instead of annually was rejected.

Although election of officers has been postponed until tomorrow, re-election of Miss Douglas was virtually assured through her nomination today. Other officers are appointed by the president and Miss Douglas has named her list as follows: Mrs. W. H. Lewis, Rome, Ga., corresponding secretary; Mrs. John T. Toler, Atlanta, recording secretary, and Miss Estelle Martin, Atlanta, treasurer.

Four new vice presidents for four corps areas also are to be elected and the following have been nominated: Second area, Mrs. Arthur Dwight, Great Neck, L. I.; fourth area, Mrs. N. O. Tribble, Atlanta; sixth area, Miss J. B. Anderson, Milwaukee, and eighth area, Miss Mattie Durkee, Denver.

LUCY COBB HEAD DECLINES TO DROP CLASSES IN BIBLE

Athens, Ga., June 29.—(AP)—The Bible, upon which Miss Mildred Lutherford laid so much stress during the many years she was connected with the school, will continue to be taught at Lucy Cobb institute, Dr. W. P. Hollingsworth, the new president said today.

"Lucy Cobb makes no apology for the prominent place that is given to the English Bible in its curriculum," Dr. Hollingsworth said. "We have arranged it so that every student, whether she carry but a session, shall receive some Bible instruction. No one can be said to be truly educated who is ignorant of the Bible."

LYONS' FIRM TO OPEN BIG WAREHOUSE SOON

Lyons, Ga., June 29.—(Special).—Growers here believe that the big planters' warehouse, covering 48,000 square feet, will handle some 2,000,000 pounds of tobacco this season. The warehouse is the largest in this section.

Important note: Many women have formerly used two or three different kinds of insecticides—one for flies, one for mosquitoes, one for roaches, and so forth. This is not necessary with Fly-Flu, as this new powerful insecticide kills all breeds of insects instantly. All insects breathe through their skins, and Fly-Flu, when sprayed, closes these pores and smothers them. Fly-Flu and the Fly-Flu hand-sprayer are sure death to ALL insects.

Fly-Flu

kills all breeds of insects instantly

There is no use to buy two or three different kinds of insecticides this Summer. One for flies, one for mosquitoes, and so on, as you may have formerly done.

Fly-Flu, the new and marvelous insecticide, kills all forms of insect breeds instantly and quickly. Flies, mosquitoes, roaches, moths and their eggs, water-bugs, ants—they all die when you spray Fly-Flu. All insects breathe through their skins, and Fly-Flu smothers them by closing up their pores.

But not only is Fly-Flu different from all other insecticides in that it kills ALL forms of insects. It is different in many other ways, too.

Fly-Flu is harmless to humans, plants, and animals. It will not stain or spot fine fabrics. It is an excellent deodorant and leaves a pleasant aromatic odor when used.

Send today to your grocery or drug store for a large size bottle of Fly-Flu. Then use it and your worries about insect pests are ended.

MIZNER RECEIVER SUIT DISMISSED

Jacksonville, Fla., June 29.—(AP)—Suit for receivership of the Mizner Development corporation, owners and developers of Boca Raton, was dismissed in federal district court late today by Judge Rhydon M. Call.

In his decision Judge Call intimated that the application for receivership had not made out a case of mismanagement on the part of officers of the corporation.

The suit for receivership against the Mizner corporation was brought here two weeks ago by Guy A. Reed, a carpet manufacturer of New York city.

In his petition, Mr. Reed asserted that misleading advertising was used, including newspaper, magazines and pamphlets, by the corporation to wrongfully picture improvements and existing conditions, and victimize the public and prospective purchasers.

Reed claimed he took the action to protect his interests, and that promises of developments at Boca Raton have been so elaborate as to be impossible to fulfill due to the financial status of the corporation.

In his petition, Reed also charged the directors of the corporation have paid in advance to officers of the organization for services not rendered, but supposed to be rendered at some future date, the sum of $250,000.

Last November, four members of the board of directors, General Coleman Dupont, Jesse L. Livermore, Holliday S. Meeds, and Louis H. Bean, of New York, resigned. Dupont said the management was in the hands of executives not qualified to handle such a project and that the wishes of the directors were ignored.

EVANS MELON CROP MOVES NEXT WEEK

Claxton, Ga., June 29.—(Special).—The 1926 watermelon crop will start moving from this territory next week. The acreage in Evans county was estimated this year and it is estimated 300 cars will be shipped. Last year 825 cars were grown in the county.

Green peas of the field variety are being shipped in large quantities from Evans, each hamper netting the grower $1. This is said to be a satisfactory price.

Sixty-six carloads of cattle have been shipped from here this year, the shipments being made at the yards of H. R. Shuman & Son.

SAND-CLAY HIGHWAY COMPLETED AT LYONS

Lyons, Ga., June 29.—(Special).—The link of the Jeff Davis highway from Vidalia to Lyons is now completed and as soon as the crew finishes the rough spots the road will be turned over to the state. This will then complete 18 miles of the finest sandclay road construction in the state of Georgia.

It is expected that the state will let more contracts soon on the U. S. No. 1, as the county has sold the bonds recently voted and thus provided funds for the work.

Work on the new big steel bridge across the Altamaha river is being rushed as well as work on the small bridges between Lyons and the river.

METCALF ACQUIRES LARGER QUARTERS

John A. Metcalf, president of the Manufacturers Outlet company, of 92 North Forsyth street, announces the closing of a lease with Hugh Richardson by which the two adjoining buildings will be acquired by Mr. Metcalf's company for the next 10 years, giving him three stores on North Forsyth street, between Poplar and Luckie streets, instead of the one now occupied.

Mr. Metcalf also announces a unique departure in the retail trade of Atlanta, for on acquiring these two additional stores he has bought at the same time forty acres of farm land near Atlanta to which he will bring from the west a herd of thoroughbred cows with expert dairymen and gardeners.

Mr. Metcalf will erect a model fountain in his enlarged store, making a specialty of dairy products and particularly of creamed butterfats and fruits in season. There will be no charge for items dispensed at this fountain. The process is simple: For every purchase made a ticket is given which is good at the fountain at any time and for use by anybody.

The plan is patterned after Mr. Metcalf's Columbus, Ohio, store, said to be the most exclusively patronized workmen's store in Ohio.

Mr. Metcalf located in Atlanta six years ago, leaving his Ohio store in charge of his brother. He was known in Columbus as "Meet-Meat-the-Fountain" Metcalf, and this department of the Columbus store is famous throughout the west.

The Manufacturers Outlet company deals exclusively in ready-to-wear goods for men, including everything from hats to socks. Men's shoes will be added, also boys' clothing, in the extended store. The company deals direct with the manufacturers and retailing on a strict cash basis with no delivery, is enabled to offer minimum prices on its goods.

"That is why I am putting in my new store," said Mr. Metcalf Tuesday. "I recognize the fact that I must do something to meet the needs of the community and I am giving my patrons the benefit of this saving and at the same time I am going to give them something offered by no other house of the kind in the south."

I will take possession of my new store about August 1 and will immediately proceed with extensive improvements. It is my intention to make this one of the handsomest stores in the south, and to open the new big store October 1.

Cobb County To Send Unopposed Candidate To Senate For First Time

For the first time since the battle of Kennesaw mountain, during the civil war, Cobb county, one of the political centers of the state, is sending a candidate this year to the senate without opposition.

It is true, however, that many a candidate from the 39th senatorial district, which includes the counties of Cobb, Cherokee and Douglas, have been nominated and elected without opposition, but Cobb county, under the senatorial rotation system, always has been the center of a hard-fought campaign for a seat in the state legislature.

The successful candidate is H. S. Willingham, Marietta business man and farmer, well known throughout the entire district.

Orlando Awtrey, of Acworth, had announced his candidacy for the seat, but withdrew only two days before the entry books closed Wednesday.

Mr. Willingham will succeed Senator J. R. Hutcheson.

THE GUMPS—WHAT THE WELL DRESSED MAN DOESN'T WEAR

The Law of the Talon

By Louis Tracy

INSTALLMENT XLV.
NOTHING LESS THAN A CATASTROPHE.

The ex-service men, of course, little understood why their salute should bring the hot blood surging into John Pantan's weather-stained face. For the first time in seven years had he received the tribute due to his former rank. He dared not return it—yet. But he halted while lifting his cap, and bade Spot to "Tchun!" a bit of agreeable comedy which caused much favorable comment in Inverlochite that night.

He could not help noticing indistinct faces peering above casement curtains, or frankly inquisitive ones framed in open doorways. Among others interested was Betty's Aberdonian policeman, whose name was Campbell. He needed no telling who the tall stranger was. He had seen Eileen enter and leave the postoffice, and from what Alistair had told him, had formed conclusions which Alistair himself hardly suspected. Be that as it may, Campbell had doffed his uniform for what he called "plain clothes." In effect, he was wearing an old tweed jacket over his dark blue trousers.

He determined to keep an eye on John, but, being a fair adept in the guiles of the poacher and salmon snatcher, did not make the mistake of appearing on the open road. It was easier and more discreet to leap the small hedge which shut off his garden from the borders of a burn running down to the lake in rear of his cottage, reach the bridge near the loch side before John and the dog crossed it (they certainly would not be heading for Mallaig at that hour) and busy himself in one of the boats moored there. Then he would ascertain which way they meant to go, while they could hardly imagine he was spying on them.

All this was honest enough on Campbell's part. He had been warned by the laird's nephew that the return of their mischievous—had, indeed, threatened an inoffensive cousin with bodily harm—so it was his duty as a policeman to size up the situation for himself. He had not taken Alistair quite seriously. Now that he had seen John Pantan he was even less inclined to believe that any grave breach of the peace was imminent. On this occasion he had left truncheon and handcuffs at home, and his automatic was tucked in a cupboard, and he did not carry a stick, but by sheer force of habit had thrust an electric torch into a pocket. In fact, his espionage was objectless, save that he guessed Eileen had met Pantan already, and it might be useful if he learned that some later assignment had been made and kept.

"She has some silly notion that if she isn't around I'll sleep in damp sheets or some rot of the kind."

To Connington, of course, he had given no heed whatsoever. Some dozen men in the village held fishing rights in the loch, and occasional visitors came from Glasgow and even farther afield to cast a fly over some of the best water on the west coast for salmon and sea trout. That very day there were six strangers in Inverlochite who might be classified under that head. Connington happened to be one of them. Campbell was in no way to blame for following the trail laid by Alistair.

So John and Spot did duty note a man assembling gear or examining a worn plank in a boat near the bridge. He was a stranger. He did not even look up as they passed.

Beyond that point a rough bridle path meandered near the loch for miles. Mostly it ran close to the water's edge, but an occasional obstacle, like the bold promontory new jutting forth some two hundred yards ahead, or the laird's boat house and landing stage, or a patch of swamp where a tiny brook broadened into a delta before reaching the lake, compelled a detour. The wooded cliff in front was Inn's Leap. John knew that any one waiting there among the trees would see him long before he gained the path on the landward side of it. No sign came from that quarter. No doubt Betty, after consultation with Eileen, had decided to come openly to Macdonald's place in the morning. He had not forgotten her fearless ways. She would always elect for daylight as against darkness, for candor rather than deceit. In any event, he intended to send her an early note; no matter what the binding necessity of the embargo on Eileen's visits it could not apply to Betty. So he refilled and lighted his pipe, bidding Spot rather emphatically to come to heel when a sudden dart into the gloom seemed to indicate pursuit of a rabbit or some other nocturnal prowler.

The two came to a momentary standstill about a quarter past nine. Campbell saw the flicker of the match and heard the order to the dog. He could just discern John's silhouette in the gap of the path among the trees and brushwood. The light was falling rapidly now in the hollows, though visibility was good on the lake, and more than sufficient to reveal identity if two people met in any open space. So the policeman resolved to risk a surprise if his quarry moved on. The path was free to all honest folk at any hour of the twenty-four. He would walk swiftly ahead, and possibly witness any meeting which took place at any point between the cliff and the boat house, the latter being yet hidden, though only a hundred yards farther on.

When the forces of evil conspire to bring about a tragedy they oftentimes display an incomparable state craft in arranging its preliminaries. Who, for instance, would suspect Sir Reginald Lansing, good-natured profligate that he was, of unconscious complicity in a crime which startled all Scotland, all England, and no small part of the greater world next day? Not he himself, certainly. And, perhaps, not even his charming and sharp-witted wife. At any rate, if she made any deduction of the sort, it never passed her lips.

But the fact remains that when Lansing met Alistair in the billiard room before dinner, the two being then alone, as Colonel Grant was closeted with Lord Oban upstairs, he precipitated a crisis.

"Pantan," he said, "it's a dashed nuisance, but I've got to break up this party. Letters which reached me today call for my instant return to town, so we'll be leaving in the morning."

Alistair flushed. He had foreseen this catastrophe, for it was nothing less. He disregarded the "letters." A man of Lansing's importance in the rubber market received the most urgent demands for his presence at board meetings and financial consultations every day of his life.

"We?" he managed to say with an air of surprise. "Mary isn't off, too?"

"O, yes—all the gang. She won't hear of my going without her. She has some silly notion that if she isn't around I'll sleep in damp sheets or some rot of the kind. So we must chuck the moors this season, and make the best of the east coast within easy reach of London. I'm thoroughly fed up. I hate clearing out just now, but it cannot be helped. Better luck next time!"

The man who was far more his host than Lord Oban needed no telling that there was one literally true statement in Lansing's rather labored excuse. He was, indeed, "fed up." In actual fact he had read the "act," or its matrimonial equivalent, to his wife at tea time. "I've had enough of this," he stormed, "this being the electricity in the social atmosphere created by Connington's visit, no less than his better half's admission that the outbreak here was even then at Mallaig and bent on reaching Inverlochite that evening."

"No one can be more sorry than myself," said Alistair, trying hard to control his temper. "Of course, I understand the claims of business, but I fear Oban will be upset. You know how it is with these old boys who have the territorial instinct strong in them. Uncle Hector thinks more of his stags and his grouse than of any company affairs, no matter how important."

Facts about Atlanta

Summarized in a recent advertisement of Atlanta by the Atlanta Advertising Commission, the facts which every visitor to Atlanta quickly grasp are:

Water—Soft, and useful in its natural state.

Sites—Plentiful locations on railroads, accessible to Labor, Power, Water, etc.

Warehousing—Adequate space, well located for reshipment or city delivery.

Financial Resources—Headquarters Sixth Federal Reserve District, 23 Banks and Trust Companies with resources more than two hundred millions.

Every Visitor Knows

THE THOUSANDS of visitors who register in Atlanta's hotels who are guests in Atlanta homes—every day are impressed with Atlanta's solid growth. National and world figures in business, many of them, they see Atlanta's destiny, Atlanta's steady expansion, more clearly than can Atlantans to whom it is an everyday affair, obscured, perhaps by the demands on individual time which these very things make.

Trained observers like Roger Babson, B. C. Forbes, alert merchants like Nathan Strauss, aggressive manufacturers like Henry Ford, calm-minded leaders in every sort of endeavor grow enthusiastic in description of Atlanta, the dominant metropolis of the Southeast.

They see, through the eyes of comparison with other great cities, Atlanta's strategic position with eight great rail systems directly connecting with every corner of seven Southeastern states.

They see a logical center for distribution, adequate warehousing, favorable freight and distribution costs.

They see opportunities for manufacturing closer to the consumer with every labor condition favorable, raw materials at hand, power cheap, and room for efficient factory sites on already existing railroad frontage.

They observe the natural resources of the Southeast. Minerals, almost every one known to industry and science. Rich farm lands, bountiful crops. Prosperity.

They make note of the 20 million people, seven states, over two hundred cities, over two thousand towns which are within 24 hours of Atlanta and within its logical market area. They ask about taxes. Atlanta taxes—for actual dollars invested in property, are next to the lowest of comparable cities.

They make another note.

They see a city of real homes, where citizens enjoy life because of home-ownership. They remark on the fact that most Atlantans can make the trip from home to office without passing a single unsightly street or building.

They comment on a healthful climate which is cooler in summer and warmer in winter than most cities north or south.

Then they return to establish a factory or sales office, to give their business the advantages seen in greater number in Atlanta than elsewhere.
